Chinese Foes Swap Damage In Sea Clash

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Nationalist Chinese navy claimed three Chinese Communist warships were sunk south of Quemoy in a dawn sea battle Friday with two Nationalist warships. The navy said the two Nationalist navy vessels are missing.

The Nationalist navy said the two warships were on patrol south of Quemoy in Formosa Strait when they were attacked by Chinese Communist vessels. The Nationalist warships returned the fire, hitting three Communist ships which caught fire and sank, the statement added.

Planes On Search

Then contact with the two Nationalist vessels was lost and other navy vessels and planes were dispatched to search for them, the navy said.

Peking's version, broadcast by Peking radio and monitored in Tokyo, made no mention of Red Chinese losses but identified the two Nationalist navy vessels claimed sunk as the subchasers Chien Men and Chang Chiang.

No Nationalist submarine chasers with those names are listed in the Jane's Fighting Ships, an authoritative directory of the world's navies. There is, however, one called Chang Kiang. This is a 280-ton vessel, formerly the U.S. PC1232.

The Nationalist Chinese navy lists 17 of these World War II vessels.

Peking said the two Nationalist warships "intruded into the fishing ground near Namoa Island of Kwantung Province and Tungshan island of Fukien Province," where they tangled with Communist Chinese navy fishing fleet escorts.

The Communists accused Nationalist Chinese war vessels of "repeatedly carrying out harassing activities" along the southeast coast of mainland China.

The New China News Agency said the Red Chinese fleet which sank the war vessels was commanded in an order issued by Lin Piao, deputy premier and minister of national defense.

No one in Taipei was ready to say whether Friday's sea fight was an isolated incident or might mark the beginning of another crisis in the Formosa Strait, which has been relatively quiet since the Quemoy-Matsu battle in the summer of 1958.

Jean Slashes Across Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Typhoon Jean churned over the Japan Sea Saturday after slashing through southwestern Japan, killing 26 persons.

The Central Meteorological Agency said it was headed for Sakhalin. Earlier it said the storm, downgraded to 78 miles per hour, was moving toward northern Honshu and Japan's northernmost main island of Hokkaido.

The typhoon, on its swipe through Kyushu and the southern tip of Honshu, left one missing and 134 injured, the national police said, in addition to the dead. It damaged 3,317 houses and flooded 2,836 homes.

President Signs Negro Voting Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid the trappings of history, President Johnson signed his Negro voting rights bill Friday and said the struggle for racial equality must turn to "a different battlefield" to overcome legacies of oppression.

Johnson promised swift and certain enforcement to put the ballot, "an important instrument of freedom, into the hands of millions."

He went to the Capitol to address the Cabinet, Congress, civil rights leaders and the nation from the stately, vaulted rotunda, and to sign the bill beneath the ornate chandelier of the elegant President's room.

Bomber Hits In Viet City; Twelve Die

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A bomb laden U.S. B57 Canberra jet, shot up in a raid against the Viet Cong, crashed and spread war's havoc Friday on a main street of Nha Trang. A U.S. spokesman said at least 12 Vietnamese civilians were killed.

Elsewhere, other planes, combat troops and U.S. destroyers carried on a campaign officially reported to have inflicted on the Viet Cong in July their heaviest casualties for any one month period of the war.

A U.S. military spokesman said the Communist guerrillas "may well have lost a division of troops." That could mean 10,000 men.

Seventy-one persons, including eight Americans, were reported injured by the plunge of the twin engine plane into Nha Trang, on the South China sea 200 miles northeast of Saigon, and the subsequent fire and explosion of four of its 250 pounds bombs.

Officials said four buildings were destroyed and several damaged.

The Canberra's two crewmen had escaped safely, bailing out after taking what Maj. Gen. Gilbert L. Meyers of the U.S. Air Force called "every precaution to try to safeguard lives and property."

One of the precautions was to set the automatic pilot to drop the crippled craft into the sea. But for some reason—apparently a damaged engine—the plane wheeled off course and inflicted on Nha Trang a heavier toll than that of some Viet Cong terrorist bombings.

Expressing sympathy for the residents of Nha Trang, Meyers said it was "an accident as a result of enemy action in a combat area." He commands the U.S. 2nd Air Division.

Other military sources said guerrilla ground fire hit the Canberra on its first pass of a bombing mission, puncturing fuel lines and damaging the landing gear.

Nha Trang, with a population of 25,000, is to be the headquarters of the new U.S. Task Force Alpha.

Gov. Wallace Adds Steam To Anti-Red Drive

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace intensified his anti-Communist campaign Friday and at the same time took steps to meet an expected new outbreak of racial demonstrations.

Wallace sent a strongly worded message to the State Senate urging passage of a pending bill to ban Communist speakers from the campuses of state-supported colleges and universities.

House members said the governor indicated he plans to file a court suit seeking to limit the size and scope of new demonstrations, and that he will ask the Alabama Legislature to go on record in support of his effort.

Wallace told the Senate the ban on Communist speakers must be enacted into law to "let the world know we are intent on remaining free from the curse of communism."

The bill, already passed by the House, was reported out of the Senate Education Committee on Thursday. It will be on the Senate calendar next Tuesday.

It provides no fixed penalty for violation. When that question was raised in committee, sponsors explained that the ban would become a policy of the state and college officials would be expected to comply.

Wallace said he feels certain that college authorities will keep Communists away without a law to compel them. But he said he wants one anyway.

"If the 'teach-in' professors and the 'marching' preachers cry that we are violating 'academic freedom,'" the governor declared, "let our answer be that the die is cast and let us be counted on the side of those who know that liberty is never bought by appeasement, pacifism and timidity, but is wrought on a thousand battlefields by the blood, sweat and tears of men."

THIS IS THE wrecked drawbridge across the Trenton Channel of the Detroit river near Grosse Ile, Mich., after it was rammed by the ore freighter John T. Hutchinson Friday. The freight-

Ship Slices Lake Bridge; No One Hurt

GROSSE ILE, Mich. (UPI) — A huge freighter rammed the Grosse Ile toll bridge late Friday, dumping two automobiles into the 30-foot deep channel between the island and the Michigan mainland.

Police said the occupants of the cars saw the ship coming, anticipated the crash and fled their cars on foot before the 666-foot freighter John T. Hutchinson hit the bridge connecting the island to the city of Riverview, a small community downriver from Detroit.

There were no injuries.

The Hutchinson, owned by the American Steamship Co. of Buffalo, N.Y., was northbound from a nearby steel mill, according to police Sgt. Charles A. Lafayette of the Grosse Ile police department. It was in the Trenton Channel of the Detroit River.

The main river traffic uses the east channel between the island and nearby Ontario, Canada.

The ship apparently missed the swing bridge opening, hit a span of the bridge and ripped it loose, dropping it into the river.

The two cars that plunged into the river were on the span, waiting for the bridge to close. Three other cars were stuck on the span and were not able to retreat to the mainland.

The Coast Guard cutter Buckhorn, which has a crane aboard was at the scene to assist in retrieving the cars from the bottom of the river.

The Hutchinson suffered a six-foot gash in its bow. It was towed by tug to a dock in Trenton for repairs.

Outlook Fair For Weekend

Partly cloudy and warm through Sunday with a possibility of thundershowers in 30 to 50 per cent of the area is the U.S. Weather Bureau's forecast for the Twin Cities and area.

Temperatures should range from a low of 70 to 74, to a high of 88 to 92.

FAA at Selman field recorded a high of 90 and a low of 70, Friday.

No precipitation was reported in the 24-hour period. Rainfall today is expected to be generally less than one-quarter inch, but locally near one-half inch.

Mostly southerly winds 5 to 15 m.p.h. are expected.

Student Charged In Coed Slaying

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Police Friday night arrested James C. Cross, 22, a University of Texas student from Fort Worth, Tex. and charged him with slaying two coeds whose nearly nude bodies were found a week ago yesterday.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr. director of the Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) said Cross admitted strangling both girls.

Dated One Victim

He was held in Travis County jail after filing of charges. No bond was set.

He was accused of slaying Susan Rigby and Shirley Ann Stark, both 21-year-old University of Texas students from Dallas.

Cross had dated Miss Stark several times during the fall and spring semesters, the DPS said. He had been a suspect since shortly after the girls disappeared July 18.

Garrison said Cross, a crew cut, mild-mannered young man,

Turban Lost; Guests Saved

CAIRO (AP) — A visiting sheik accused another guest at the crumbling old Club Hotel here of stealing his turban as he slept during the night.

An argument developed. The sheik, the man he accused and all the other guests of the hotel — about a dozen persons — set out for the police station to settle the affair.

Just after they left, the three-story hotel collapsed and killed the only person left inside, an employee.

Police said that ended the argument over the turban, which is still missing, probably in the rubble.

New Market Service

Week In Review To Start Sunday

Beginning Sunday the Monroe Morning World will bring its readers the Associated Press Weekly Market Review, highlighted by a New York Stock Exchange table of 500 issues showing the number of shares sold during the past week and the range of prices.

The service will also include the weekly range of 50 American Stock Exchange issues, Weekly Dow Jones Averages, What Stocks Did, Stocks in the Spotlight, Number of Issues Traded, 20 Most Active Stocks, Total New York Stock Exchange Sales, Total Bond Sales, Standard-Poor's, and investing companies list of more than 200 mutual funds.

In addition, there will be up-to-the-minute Associated Press stories on the stock market and the world of finance, written by experts who have followed movements in these trading centers for years, plus local, regional and national oil stories and a host of other features. This informative financial report is compiled from the daily statistics gathered by the AP. Stock tables are tabulated by an IBM computer at micro-second speed and sent over the most modern method of transmitting news — teletypesetter.

The columns of figures will arrive in The World newsroom on a tape that will feed directly into typesetting machines, automatically setting the columns of figures and stories into type.

This is another major forward step of The Monroe Morning World's coverage of financial and market news and is part of the continuing program to give readers the best news-paper possible.

Call May Be Indication Of Reds' Losing

TOKYO (AP) — The political front of the Viet Cong guerrillas has asked North Viet Nam for active assistance against the Americans in the South, and to prepare to send men into battle, Hanoi radio said today.

Hanoi, which has said it would send volunteers if asked, quoted a Viet Cong statement as saying the guerrillas want help "to increase our forces and step up the resistance of the war 10 times more vigorously."

Speculation Aroused

The significance of the statement, and its timing, immediately aroused speculation. U.S. officials have reported the Viet Cong as taking heavy losses recently in Viet Nam, raising the possibility the movement is feeling a manpower pinch. It also seemed possible that the statement is part of a preparation for Hanoi itself to take new action or for bargaining should there be some sort of new approach to the conference table.

The statement was issued by the Viet Cong on Tuesday, but broadcast only Friday night by the Viet Cong radio, the Hanoi broadcast said.

Up to now, Communist North Viet Nam has disclaimed direct involvement in the war, although U.S. officials say units of the North's regular army have been identified in the South and that there has been steady infiltration.

In Washington, the State Department declined comment.

Washington officials said they were studying a text of the broadcast with some interest, although they expressed belief that much of what it said had been issued by Communist propagandists before in one form or another.

These U.S. officials recalled that Hanoi for some months now has been publicly calling for support of "our patriotic forces in the South." And tens of thousands of men have in fact been sent South for guerrilla fighting, it was stated.

The broadcast reference to negotiations appeared to set conditions in line with Hanoi's four-point proposal which calls for a U.S. pullout.

North Viet Nam has contended too that the Viet Cong political arm, the National Liberation Front, is South Viet Nam's real government rather than the U.S.-supported Saigon government.

The Washington officials looked on the timing of the statement as perhaps its most interesting aspect. They suggested that it shows the Reds are no more interested in getting a peaceful settlement now than before. The Communists, according to the analysis here, still think they can win by force.

U.S. officials have said on several occasions that the Viet Cong could have a role in any negotiations although details have not been given.

A month ago, the National Liberation Front for South Viet Nam, the Viet Cong's political organization, noted that the United States ordered its troops into combat. It then said it reserved the right "to call when necessary the armed forces of the North and of friendly countries to come to South Viet Nam and fight the U.S. aggressors."

Red China also had said it would send "volunteers" if asked.

The Hanoi announcement coincided with a new statement from Moscow saying that the U.S. decision to send 50,000 more troops was an attempt to "break the will of the people of Viet Nam."

Ghanian Delivers Message To LBJ On Viet Situation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ghana's foreign minister, Alex Quaison-Sackey, delivered Friday to President Johnson a secret message which the African said should advance the cause of peace in Viet Nam.

The message came from Ghana President Kwame Nkrumah and was delivered by Quaison-Sackey in the President's oval office after the African diplomat held a 55-minute session with McGeorge Bundy, special presidential assistant for national security.

Quaison-Sackey, who also is president of the U.N. General Assembly, did not talk with White House reporters.

Nkrumah is a friend of President Ho Chi Minh of North Viet Nam and received a letter Thursday from that Communist leader who is directing the Viet Cong guerrilla war against South Viet Nam.

It is assumed the message Quaison-Sackey delivered was connected with the letter from Ho but U.S. officials voiced initial doubts that it would do much to break the deadlock over holding negotiations to end the war.

Quaison-Sackey got a routine airport reception as he arrived here late Friday morning from Ghana by way of New York.

He lunched with Secretary of State Dean Rusk before going to the White House where he was steered around reporters and met at a rear door by Bundy.

Talking with newsmen before going to the White House, the dapper diplomat said, "I am not to say anything about the message. I am only a messenger."

But at the same time he said the communication should "advance the cause of peace" and added: "I'm always optimistic."

Other diplomatic sources suggested that the Ho letter, brought to Nkrumah by a Ghanaian emissary just returned from Hanoi, did not mark any notable change in Ho's refusal to talk peace on any terms that would be acceptable to Washington.

These sources indicated that Nkrumah was using the occasion nonetheless to urge moves for a peaceful settlement.

Area Road Problems Face Jury Officials

RAYVILLE (Special) — Rep. Benny Christian and A. A. Braddock, Fifth District engineer for the State Department of Highways, met with Richland Parish Police Jury members this week to discuss problems in connection with Interstate-20 and some parish roads.

The jury has asked the Federal Bureau of Roads to re-evaluate property throughout the area which will be used in I-20 rights-of-way.

The two officials also discussed with the jury the need for the parish to acquire necessary equipment to maintain the blacktop system of roads developing in the parish.

After discussion, the jury authorized its secretary, Richard Downs, to secure specifications

Patrolman Drops Dead; Charges Set On Righter

WEST POINT, Miss. (AP)—A Mississippi highway patrolman dropped dead of an apparent heart attack Friday while searching a white civil rights worker, who was subsequently charged with manslaughter.

Officers identified the worker as Mike Reuss, 18, of Washington, whom friends said was the son of Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis.

The dead patrolman was identified by Sheriff Joe Strickland as B. Cowart, 53, a special investigator for the highway patrol.

Cowart had no first name.

Strickland said Reuss was among a group of 45 civil rights demonstrators arrested for blocking the sidewalks as they protested the Thursday arrest of 54 Negro students.

Strickland said Reuss had first resisted arrest when accosted by an officer on the street.

Reuss said at the jail he knew nothing of a man being dead. He said when confronted with a patrolman, who took off a "freedom" button from his shirt, he said "I'll take the other one off" and did so.

Cowart was assisting in the arrests of the 45 workers, both white and Negro, about noon.

They were protesting the arrests of the students at Beasley school Thursday who were charged with disturbing the peace.

Dist. Atty. Harvey Buck charged Reuss with manslaughter.

Buck said the patrolman was actually reaching over to search Reuss when the boy whirled around, grabbed him and gave him a push. Then the man died.

"That's the information upon which the manslaughter charges were filed," Buck said.

Summer Fun

Next week will apparently be very big on vacations at the Ouachita Parish School Board office.

Supt. Milton C. Hall will have the week off, the first real leisure he's lumped together in a month of Sundays, and hopes fondly to get in a little fishing.

Meanwhile, the system's lunch room bookkeeper, Mrs. Marie Rushing, is starting her annual two-weeks vacation, and Miss Pat Ray, an accounting clerk, will leave on Thursday for a week of summer fun.

New Issue

Issues of the August edition of the Monroe Magazine, official publication of the Monroe Chamber of Commerce, will be mailed Monday to Chamber members, according to general manager of the chamber and magazine editor, James S. Williams.

Copies of the publication were distributed Friday.

The feature story concerns the Downtown Modernization Committee and its chairman, Otis L. Johnson, is pictured on the cover with a view of the Interstate-20 Highway providing the background.

Franklin Parish School Board Approves Buses

WINNSBORO (Special)—The Franklin Parish School Board, at its regular meeting Friday, approved the purchase of four new school buses for the parish system.

Two of the buses will be used to transport Franklin Parish college students to and from Northeast State College in Monroe. Eighty-two students have signed the riding list. In the event that all students can be transported on one bus, the other will be returned to the school system.

Two other buses were approved for the school system. Awarded the contracts to drive the college buses were Don Ezell of Gilbert and Glenn Porter of Winnsboro.

In other action, the board elected to continue a $310 per month contribution to the parish health unit. The school lunch program was set up with prices set at 15 cents for students and 35 cents for adults.

Approved as athletic director at Winnsboro High School was James H. Shell. The resignation of Jerry Andrews, a teacher at Winnsboro High, was accepted. Mrs. Bobby Ezell was granted a maternity leave with Mrs. Geneath McCain employed as her replacement for the session.

A drivers education program was authorized in the parish high schools by Supt. M. D. Peel. The board declared an emergency and authorized the purchase of air conditioners for Central High of Delhi.

Bids were accepted for butane and Anderson Butane of Delhi getting the contract for Waverly, Central and Ward Three Junior High. O'Neal Butane of Winnsboro was awarded the remainder of the parish schools. Both had low bids of 8.2 cents per gallon.

Money was authorized to pay agriculture teachers for the summer program. This money is to be replaced by the legislature at its next session. The funds were made available to replace government funds which were withdrawn.

A committee was appointed to make a report on the summer agricultural program. Members are R. R. Marshall, chairman; Guy McClain, Otis B. Hassell, and S. L. Shanley.

Ford Says Solons Could Declare War

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford suggested — but did not advocate — Friday that Congress might declare war in Viet Nam. Rep. Carl Albert, D-Okla., promptly said such a move would be foolhardy and useless.

Neither the Michigan Republican nor the House Democratic floor leader specified the country or countries at which such a declaration might be aimed.

The discussion arose when Ford's office released the transcript of a statement he recorded last Wednesday for television station KNXT-TV, Los Angeles, in which he said there is a need for "a meaningful debate in Congress on our course of action."

Ford added: "Under the circumstances of our commitment in Viet Nam and unless President Johnson has mitigating circumstances that should control, the honest thing would be for Congress to back up the President's decision by a declaration of emergency or war."

Albert interpreted this as an endorsement by Ford of a declaration of war and said in a statement that such a move would be "foolhardy because a declaration of war . . . would run squarely against the effort of the United States to move this issue to the conference table."

Ford was out of town Friday but through his office he issued a statement saying he was surprised at some of the published interpretations of his remarks recorded for broadcast.

His statements, he said, merely "reflect the concern that the President may be exceeding his constitutional powers and that the Congress may not be exercising its responsibilities."

Steel Talks Getting Nowhere

WASHINGTON (AP) — Steel industry labor talks are getting virtually nowhere, an informed source said Friday, and White House intervention may be required to head off a strike.

The Pittsburgh negotiations between the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers Union and 10 major steel firms are inching slowly into a new crisis, the source said.

"It's going to take more of a crisis atmosphere at the end of this month" to budge the near stalemate, said the nongovernment source who is close to the talks. He declined to be identified.

A strike is set for midnight Aug. 31 if no agreement is reached.

A week ago, both the union president, I. W. Abel, and chief industry negotiator R. Conrad Cooper expressed confidence of a new contract could be agreed on before the deadline.

At the same time, the union's Wage Policy Committee had harshly criticized industry negotiators, calling them inflexible penny-pinchers. Cooper retorted that the charge is "the tired old tactic of blaming us."

The negotiations have been under way for some 13 weeks under a temporary strike truce that narrowly averted a walk-out last May 1.

Top federal mediators helped win the four-month postponement after high administration officials warned a strike would sharply set back the nation's long economic boom.

Johnson played a subdued role in that situation in line with his policy of trying to keep major labor crises out of the White House.

Other informed sources said the truce was arranged only after some of the parties in the talks were persuaded that Johnson was not going to bring the negotiations here as he had done a year earlier to avert a railroad strike.

But, these sources predict, Johnson will step in if he has to keep a strike from marring the highly favorable economic record during his administration.

The union served its 30-day strike notice July 30 after industry negotiators refused to raise their offer of 9 cents an hour. This would be lower than the interim 11.5 cents won by the union in exchange for the four-month strike postponement.

Hiroshima Pilots Holding Reunion

NEW YORK (AP) — Long before sunrise 20 years ago Friday, a B29 rumbled off an airstrip on the tiny Pacific island of Tinian with the world's most devastating weapon in her bomb bay.

Before the day was over, the atomic bomb had been unleashed and Hiroshima lay in ruins. A second city, Nagasaki, was to be hit three days later, before the Japanese surrendered unconditionally on Aug. 14 and World War II ended.

Friday, the men of the elite 15-plane squadron secretly trained for these missions began arriving here for an anniversary reunion.

Some balding, some graying, almost all now are civilians.

"We do not gather in a spirit of rejoicing for what was done," Jacob (Jake) Beser, will tell his old comrades of the 393rd Bomb Squadron today in setting the theme of the reunion, "but rather rejoicing in the significance of the events in which we participated."

"The mass destruction of cities and civil populations is alien to our American way of thinking."

Beser, 44, of Baltimore, Md., the reunion chairman and the only man who was aboard both the Hiroshima and Nagasaki bombers, added: "We rejoice for the significance of our being the first to obtain a nuclear capability — for no other reason than this has helped make the past 20 years free of a third world war."

The pilots, radiomen, gunners, bombardiers and ground crewmen of the squadron spent the first day of their gathering renewing old friendships and reminiscing about the war.

It was about 2 a.m., Aug. 6, 1945, a clear and starry night, when Col. Paul W. Tibbets Jr. of Miami, Fla. — now a general stationed in India and not at the reunion — lifted the 132,000-pound B29 named Enola Gay off Tinian for a 13-hour, 20-minute flight.

George R. Caron of Denver, Colo., had left his tail gunner's position and was in the rear compartment with Beser, the radar counter measures officer; Robert H. Shumard of Detroit, assistant flight engineer; and Joseph S. Stiborick of Rockdale, Tex., radar operator.

Through a tunnel connection they could see some of the men in the forward compartment and cockpit.

Flanking Tibbets was Robert A. Lewis of Maitland, N.J., copilot, with M. Sgt. Wyatt E. Duzenbury of Travis Air Force Base, Calif., flight engineer, directly behind him. Thomas W. Ferebee, bombardier, now a colonel stationed at Turner AFB, Ga., and not at the reunion, sat in the nose.

Navigator Theodore Van Kirk of Wilmington, Del., busied himself fixing the Enola Gay's course for the first leg to Iwo Jima. There Tibbets would orbit until Radioman Richard N. Nelson of Palos Verdes Estates, Calif., received weather reports from the squadron's Superfortresses scouting Hiroshima and alternate targets.

Women, Children Evacuated From North Viet Nam

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Women, children and the aged have been removed from Hanoi, capital of Communist North Viet Nam, in anticipation of U.S. air raids, the Polish government television reported Friday night.

"Only men remain in Hanoi," Polish television correspondent Jerzy Telpi said in a voice report from Viet Nam. He added: "However, the Americans have so far not arrived. The people are quiet and administration is orderly."

Arkansan Prefers Daughter In America

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Relatives of Gerald Swindle expect him to arrive in Jonesboro, Ark., on Saturday night along with his 2-year-old daughter whom he spirited away from England on Thursday.

Swindle, 25, a former automotive worker in St. Louis, believes that he can raise his daughter, Sharon, better than can his divorced wife, Valerie, a British subject who lives in a London suburb.

The handsome onetime U.S. airman says he did no wrong in whisking pretty little Sharon away from London because: "I don't think my ex-wife was giving Sharon proper care. I think any father would have done the same."

Sharon and Swindle arrived on an airplane in St. Louis on Thursday night, exhausted after a trip that had many of the elements of an adventure thriller. Swindle's ex-wife did her best to thwart the escape and the father and daughter got away from British immigration people and onto the transatlantic airplane with only four minutes to spare.

A suitcase containing Sharon's clothing was held up at customs at Dulles International Airport in Washington. So Swindle hurried 40 miles to Friendship Airport near Baltimore to make a connection with a flight to St. Louis.

Rights Groups Want Integrated Head Start Plan

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Leaders of two civil rights groups said Friday that beneficial as the Head Start program might be, it is not acceptable on a segregated basis.

The controversial program folded up in East Baton Rouge Parish Thursday night after program officials and the parish school board couldn't agree on a proposal to integrate the program's faculty.

Ronnie Moore, Congress of Racial Equality field secretary, and Murphy Bell, NAACP local president, made their objections in a letter to Mayor W. W. Dumas.

"Such program," they said, "are little more than efforts to solidify and further entrench white power."

"It goes without saying that in theory the poverty program and operation head start are worthwhile and much needed steps in the direction of social justice."

"Our objections, however, were directed at a very basic often obscured issue. That is, the Negro people must not be misled by altruistic programs which appear for their benefit and improvement."

"In too many cases, if not in all cases, such programs are little more than efforts to solidify and further entrench white power."

The Head Start program had about two weeks to run when the project ended in a tailspin, under the dilemma of losing either its funds from the federal government or classrooms loaned by the parish school board.

The action came after federal authorities criticized the program for not having enough Negro teachers.

The school board said an interpretation of the program at the beginning did not include such a provision. It threatened to withdraw facilities if any changes were made.

Walter Travis, head of the local anti poverty programs, attempted to talk the board into letting him establish a nonsegregated visiting aide program, which he said would satisfy the government's demands.

Goldberg Seeks U.N. Council's Aid

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg said Friday the United States is seeking the cooperation of U.N. Security Council members to take the Viet Nam crisis "from the battlefield to the conference table."

He denied that the United States was trying to make propaganda by appealing to council members for their views on how to end the war in Viet Nam.

Goldberg, the new chief of the U.S. delegation at the United Nations, made the comment after a private conference of more than an hour on the Viet Nam crisis with representatives of the six nonpermanent members of the 11-nation Security Council.

"We had an exploratory and fruitful exchange of views about U.N. problems, including the subject of the letter I lodged with the Security Council about the situation in Viet Nam and our government's attitude toward it," he said. Goldberg sent a letter a week ago to all council members expressing hope they could find the means to respond effectively to the challenge raised by the war in Viet Nam.

The six nonpermanent members have been consulting informally on the letter. They are Malaysia, Jordan, Netherlands, Uruguay, Bolivia and Ivory Coast. They suggested to Goldberg that it would be useful to consult with him and he came here from Washington to meet with them and take care of some other appointments.

The conference took place in the suite of Malaysian Ambassador Radhakrishna Ramani in the Waldorf Towers in Manhattan. Mr. and Mrs. Goldberg will move into their Waldorf Towers quarters next Wednesday.

Diplomatic sources at the United Nations reported some feeling among council members that the United States might be trying to make propaganda by appealing to council members.

In response to a question, Goldberg strongly denied any intention along that line.

"We are not interested in putting anyone on the spot," he said. "According to my reading of the U.N. charter we have an

Kohler Stages Protest Walkout On Soviet Chief

MOSCOW (UPI) — U. S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler staged a demonstrative walkout from a Kremlin reception Friday night when Premier Alexei N. Kosygin denounced the United States as an "aggressor" in Viet Nam.

"United States aggressive actions created a situation fraught with the gravest consequences for world peace," Kosygin said in a toast to the visiting King of Afghanistan.

Kohler told reporters outside glittering St. George's Hall: "I don't feel that the remarks made by Mr. Kosygin can be acceptable to me when I am a guest and I have no chance to reply."

Kosygin also said Russia supports North Viet Nam's demand for cessation of bombing raids on North Viet Nam and the withdrawal of American troops from South Viet Nam.

Reaffirming Soviet aid to Hanoi, Kosygin pledged, "We shall continue and develop our cooperation with the Vietnamese friends directed toward strengthening the defense potential of their country and curbing American aggression."

Immediately after King Mohammed Zahir Shah responded to the toast, the angry Kohler and his wife, Phyllis, stalked out of the Kremlin.

This was the first time Kohler in his almost three years residence in Moscow has walked out of a Kremlin reception.

The envoy usually avoids the embarrassment of hearing of offensive remarks about the United States by boycotting diplomatic receptions where such statements are likely to be made.

Kohler apparently thought the occasion of a visit by a King friendly both to America and Russia would not be used for this purpose.

Responding to Kosygin's toast the non-aligned King agreed the Vietnamese situation "is of concern to all countries" but he refrained from criticizing the United States.

Negroes since the injunction came. I don't see what else there is to demonstrate about."

Whole Nation's Problem

At the recent conference of governors of various states in this country, the Minnesota chief executive was quoted as saying he thought the question of integration was a national problem and not just a problem in the South. He expressed the hope that Southerners would not be offended by his statement.

Far from being offended, Southerners were gratified that some one outside the South had finally awakened to what Southern people had been saying all the time. This was that if integration were actually put into effect, many of the Northern states would face problems greater than those in the South.

There are a good many problems that are local in nature and should remain that way. This was true of integration until the federal government decided to take command and to force a sort of mixing for which neither whites nor Negroes were ready.

In almost every public display of integrated people, Negroes are being made to play insolent, arrogant parts in which they try to make themselves appear superior to whites. These parts are purposely drawn to belittle white people and to build up Negro arrogance. This sort of thing is found in all types of films, including those we see in our homes and those we see on public screens. They may be calculated to make people accept something contrary to their customs but they certainly do nothing to better the feeling between the two races.

The government constantly shows a determination to make every local problem a national problem. It does this by overriding the wishes of the people and by encircling them with restrictive laws.

Clear evidence of such a situation is found in quotations from many newspapers from all parts of the country. Among statements showing opposition to federal control over everything and to many laws that restrict, instead of protecting, are the following.

"Farm field labor is a skill, just like any other specialized job. We well recall the ridiculous statement of a department of labor employee in Casper at a labor meeting some months ago in which he said flatly, 'We can teach a teenager to be a sugar beet field worker in 30 minutes.' Fortunately, Wyoming has escaped an emergency because enough Texas labor turned out to be available." — Riverton, Wyo. Ranger.

"The U.S. Supreme Court has

Jump Or Drown?

If you are clinging to a log as it moves down the rapids, just above the falls, which will mean certain death if you go over them, if you know it may not be more than 30 seconds before you reach the falls, and if you see a projecting root on the bank which you may reach by shoving off from the log, will you jump for the root or cling to the log and go over the falls?

A daring person will make the jump, even if he figures he has hardly more than one chance in 100 of making it. That one chance is better than certain death.

In Ventura, Calif., a young mother faced a similar choice for her 4-year-old daughter, rather than herself, and decided to take the long chance. Mrs. Sharon Evans, 24, said her daughter, Joy had been given less than a month to live. She deliberately exposed the leukemia-stricken child to chicken pox in a desperate attempt to prolong her life, although she was warned by her physician that it was "very dangerous." The procedure was declared "strictly experimental."

Although it took great courage for the mother to make the decision, few will condemn or even criticize her. If all known methods of treatment for any ailment have proved hopeless, why not try those that are "strictly experimental?"

The same thing could be said of many hopeless cancer patients. Doctors adhere strictly to medi-nullified the federal law which bars communist party members from serving as officers in labor unions. That's what we said! Don't you know the Kremlin is pleased with that one! Come to think of it, we frequently get the impression that the communists have a Supreme Court in this country . . . and it's about time we Americans got one of our own!" — West Point, Miss., Times Leader.

"One of the best things that can happen to a 14-or-more-year-old is a part-time job, which is also an educational experience in real life. We have listened to the much to social planners about the evils of child labor. A worse situation is the evil of idleness for a youngster bubbling over with excess energy. It is very likely that any so-called juvenile problem is due to this situation as much as any lack of parental concern." — Tonganoxie, Kan., Mirror.

"Other nations have also laughed and sneered at the predictions that their money was coming to be worth more as a fuel than as a medium of exchange. These predictions have come true, and they can and will come true in the United States unless someone in authority begins to 'do something about it.'" — Oakdale Calif., Leader.

"It is a sad commentary upon Americans and American practice that special legislation should come to be needed to assure minority group members equal opportunity. In the event that such laws are necessary, we urge that they be ones that proceed from and confirm Constitutional principles, rather than slip through loopholes of the Constitution and work to strengthen one area of rights at the expense of another." — LaGrange, Ill. Citizen.

"There is little argument against the belief that all who are qualified are entitled to as much education as they can and wish to absorb. It is traditionally true, too, that no one with ability has been denied an education in the United States. The pages of history are filled with examples of the poor who have become great by working their way through the loftiest institutions." — Chestertown, Md., News.

"Our forebears had to rely on their own endeavors and by working hard they achieved independence. It's an old-fashioned heresy to advocate having to root for a living, but we still think it's a better answer than Appalachian Aids, Wars on Poverty, etc., etc." — Harlowton, Mont., Times.

Jump Or Drown?

cal association and food and drug administration edicts that they must not use any untried and unapproved medicines. This does not rule out the experimental use of thousands upon thousands of kinds of medicines that have been approved for other ailments. So long as they are safe to take and there is the slightest possibility that they might effect a cure, the doctor has the privilege of offering the patient a choice between a faint hope and certain death.

One columnist made this declaration: "If I ever become a cancer victim and there is little hope of cure through the known methods I will publicly declare myself a 'guinea pig' and will offer myself for experimentation to any reputable physician with permission to use any 'strictly experimental' drug, even though it may not yet have been placed on the market."

Since the California mother accepted the "jump-or-drown" challenge in an attempt to save her daughter's life, it would be interesting to know how many cancer sufferers would be willing to take that outside chance. It might also be interesting to know how many non-sufferers believe they would take that scant chance if they were similarly afflicted. Any patient has the privilege of telling his doctor what his choice would be. The doctor then, of course, will make his own decision on what he will do.

LBJ Pushing 14(b) Repeal

Asserts Bill On Priority Program

PRESIDENT JOHNSON is wielding the whip to force Senate action on the House-passed bill repealing Section 14(b) allowing states to enact right-to-work laws.

At a White House conference, he bluntly told Democratic congressional leaders he wants the controversial legislation enacted this session.

"I have seen some news reports that it's to be laid over until next year," the President said. "I don't know where those stories came from, but as far as I'm concerned they have no basis in fact. I am absolutely against any delay. This bill is part of my priority program, and I want it passed this session."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., remarked that the measure is pending in the Labor subcommittee headed by Senator Pat McNamara, D-Mich., a strong supporter.

"PAT TELLS ME," replied the President, "that he has a two to one majority, 6 to 3, to make a favorable recommendation to the full Labor Committee. Also that the full committee is virtually certain to approve the bill around the middle of this month. That will provide ample time to bring it up in the Senate before the end of the month."

Then looking sternly at the Democratic leaders, Johnson added:

"I see no prospect of Congress winding up by Labor Day. Frankly, there is no reason it should. What's the rush? There is plenty to be done, and we are all being paid on a year-around basis. I want my entire legislative program disposed of this session regardless of how long it takes. If that requires the rest of the year, then I expect Congress to stay on the job until it's done."

There was no dissenting rejoinder from the congressional leaders. Although some have talked of quitting around Labor Day, none challenged the President's emphatic pronouncement.

Proponents of the Section 14(b) repeal bill claim a Senate line - up as follows - 52 for; 36 against; 12 undecided. Opponents admit they face an uphill fight. Their strategy is to concentrate on amendments to extensively modify the measure and thus open the way for its eventual rejection.

COME AND GET IT — The following is of highest interest and concern to every municipal authority in the country:

Take a close look at that newly-enacted $7.5 billion housing and urban development bill. There are tens of millions in federal grants to be had by cities large and small.

Virtually unnoticed in this huge measure is a $1.1 billion public works program.

While the legislation was under consideration in Congress, the principal battling and public attention centered on the new, controversial provision for federal rent supplements for low-income families. Meanwhile, the $1.1 billion municipal public works program was overlooked.

Yet it's a juicy bonanza of wide-ranging federal grants as follows:

$800 million to pay half the cost of water and sewer facilities.

$200 million for two-thirds the cost of neighborhood medical and social centers for anti-poverty programs.

$100 million for the purchase of land for future urban projects.

NOT ONLY IS this program open to every municipality regardless of size, but it is devoid of previous public works restrictions, such as a certain level of unemployment. There is no jobless requirement in this program.

Further, if serious unemployment does exist in a community, the new measure provides additional federal help.

For example: A city with unemployment averaging 100 per cent above the national level can get 90 per cent federal financing for water and sewer projects, instead of 50 per cent. Also, a community in a federally-designated "redevelopment area" can get 75 per cent financing instead of two-thirds for neighborhood centers.

Water projects can include facilities to store, supply, treat, purify and distribute water for domestic, commercial and industrial use. Sewer facilities cover the collection, transmission and discharge of liquid waste, and storm sewer systems for the collection, transmission and discharge of rain water and ground water runoff.

Excluded are sewage treatment plants for which federal aid is provided under the Water Pollution Control program.

GRANTS FOR neighborhood facilities include community centers, youth centers, health stations and other public buildings to provide medical, recreational and social services. Priority will be given centers directly related to the anti-poverty program.

Other little known features of the giant housing and urban development measure are: Federal grants for half the cost of land in built-up areas for playgrounds, parks, exhibit areas and pedestrian malls. There is no price ceiling on these.

New Federal Housing Administration program of home loan insurance for peacetime veterans, featuring no down payment on the first $15,000 of the house's value. All honorably discharged veterans are eligible.

Federally insured savings and loan associations authorized to invest up to 1 per cent of their assets in housing projects in Latin America sponsored by the foreign aid program.

Neutralists Can Bring Calamity

PRESIDENT Lyndon Johnson, it must be reported, is of two minds on how to proceed in Viet Nam. He is committed to the defense of the anti-Communist government in Saigon. But domestic critics of his policy — ranging from Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield to the left-oriented clique of Senators Wayne Morse, Frank Church, Ernest Gruening, Robert F. Kennedy, and J. William Fulbright — are causing the President enough trouble to slow his hand and weaken his position.

A considerable amount of nonsense, calling for American withdrawal, fills the Washington air. Those who proliferate this nonsense talk as if Viet Nam or the Indo-Chinese peninsula were all that was at stake in the present critical days. The fact is that this country's strongest ally in the Far East will be badly hurt if the United States pulls back. That ally is Japan, which, despite a left-infiltrated press that seeks to shake the government and succeeds in misinforming the world, stands four-square behind President Johnson.

THE JAPANESE policy, as her diplomats have made clear to ours repeatedly in a series of secret discussions, is based on an American position of firmness. Should President Johnson show the weakness that the neutralists in the Senate demand of him, Japan would be forced to reconsider her policy and come to some kind of accommodation with the Communist aggressors. The Japanese would like to stand up to Red China, but they are not about to take on the Communist world bloc all alone.

Premier Eisaku Sato has not only laid his cards on the table, but has also played them strongly in a pro-U.S. manner. Many Americans forget that despite the rioting and political pressure of Japan's leftist extremists, Premier Sato has made a series of important moves to consolidate his foreign policy and ours.

Heedless of the impact on these extremists, he has cemented relations with South Korea — a blow to Red China and a helping hand to one of the first victims of Chinese Communist aggression in the Far East. While the State Department works overtime to cut the throat of the Nationalist Chinese, Japan extended a credit of $150 million to the Free China government in Taiwan. Unlike many of our "allies" in Europe, Mr. Sato has openly supported United States policy in Viet Nam. He refused to allow the Mayor of Peking to make a propaganda visit to Tokyo and turned thumbs down on a deal to build a large freighter for the Chinese Reds.

IF THE JOHNSON Administration pulls the rug out from under Sato, one of the most encouraging developments in the Far East will come crashing down with him. The neutralists never mention this Sato project — the welding of a defense perimeter in the Far East which will include the Philippines, Formosa, Okinawa, South Korea, and Japan. The significance of this concept is that it would be Asia-inspired — a major move against Communist expansionism which could not be labeled "made in America."

Such a defense perimeter would not only have tremendous military importance. Psychologically, it would do much to undercut the effective "anti-white" propaganda which the Chinese Reds have used against the anti- and non-Communist forces in Asia. The establishment of this cordon sanitaire in the Pacific would cause the Red Chinese to deploy their already over-extended forces along a wide arc. It would put greater pressures on the Peking government to increase its bloated military budget and to reduce vitally-needed consumer production.

THE SATO STRATEGY for a military linkage of states surrounding the sea approaches to Red China has, of course, never been publicly announced. Mr. Sato realizes that alliances of this sort are best made quietly and without the static sent out by neutralists and leftists. But the Administration in Washington is well aware of the plan and solidly for it. This is why President Johnson must continue to reiterate America's determination to fight for South Vietnamese independence.

This, too, is why the President is becoming so edgy over the irresponsible attacks on his Vietnamese policy by ranking members of his own party. Every speech by Senator Bobby Kennedy, every flabby statement by Senator Mansfield shakes the needle on Tokyo's political seismograph. And though Premier Sato can know in his mind that these utterances do not represent American policy, in his heart he must wonder.

The fact remains that a handful of willful men in the United States Senate are inviting calamity to visit the United States. Their motives are various and mixed, but the net effect of any sabotage of the nation's Vietnamese policy could well be the biggest nose-dive for America that the world has ever seen.

BARRY GOLDWATER

Colorado River Voyage Recalled

RECOVERING FROM back surgery has given me time to recall my recent journey down the Colorado River.

This was a trip I first made 25 years ago and which I had promised to make again with my four children.

We began at Lee Ferry on the Colorado and ended at Temple Bar on Lake Mead. It is not very far in miles, but it is ageless in time as the Grand Canyon and its tributaries unfold their millions of years of polished and colorful life to those who travel by boat.

Living with this river for two weeks makes one realize that as hard as man tries to change the course of nature, nature will continue to do what she has always done.

Propelled by the sometimes placid but more often roaring waters of a river which has been cutting this canyon for 25 million years, we saw rocks over 2 billion years old and sedimentary evidence of five different oceans which have covered the area. The awesome silence is only broken when people like us pass through.

We said 25 years ago that the muddy water of the river was too thick to drink and too thin to plow. But now it is blue and ice cold, coming as it does from the bottom of Lake Powell where the Glen Canyon Dam stops the silt and the mud.

LAKE POWELL wasn't there 25 years ago: just a long, delightful canyon with its red walls towering hundreds of feet overhead with thousands of beavers living along its banks. But man has to live, and the material things, like electricity and drinking water, jostle the spiritual parts of our natural life.

Every day while we were on the river white-plumed trails raced from the hot jet engines flying thousands of feet overhead as they erased the face of the clock to get from Los Angeles to New York and back again.

Soaper Says

The eagerness with which we waited for pictures from Mars you'd think we had kids at camp up there.

Every night, faster than the fastest jets, a satellite crossed at a slight angle to the line between the big dipper and the North Star.

WHEN I LAST TOOK this trip, only three of my four children had been born. This time they brought two husbands along and left four children at home. Peggy met me this time as she did those long years ago, only this time the little girl who came with her then was with me.

The water is now regulated through the canyon and the silt no longer piles up, but I am struck with the thought that only for a few years will the canyon remain as it is. Sometime in the future there will be no more need for dams. Both water and power will come from other sources, and man will forget these structures he has built to give him more material comfort.

When man reaches the day when he admits to himself that the ills of the earth are of his doing, the day will come when he stops building dams across the stream of his conscience, when he stops living by the credo of "hurray for me and to heck with you."

That day of decision will bring a brightness and joy to the world such as it has never known. I pray that day will come during the lives of my children and grandchildren, during the lives of all the young in this ageless world.

Police Track Rape-Slayer Of Teen-Ager

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police went door to door through the fashionable Hillcrest Country Club area of West Los Angeles on Friday in search of leads in the daytime rape-slaying of a 16-year-old honor student.

Pretty Stephanie Gorman's nude body was found Thursday afternoon in her bedroom in the family's $65,000 home.

Officers also questioned street candy vendors and neighbors for clues to unusual mid-afternoon activity. The girl was raped, shot in the head and chest and strangled with an undergarment while her older sister Cheryl and her father, attorney Edward I. Gorman, were at work and her mother was at the hairdresser's.

Meanwhile, police booked Henry Waldschmidt, 40, of nearby Palms, on suspicion of murder after, they said, he telephoned police early Friday and confessed to the killing. But, said Detective Sgt. William Stambler, an officer recognized the voice as resembling that of a man who has confessed to several recent crimes and then repudiated the confessions.

Stambler said officers talked to Waldschmidt in relays for 45 minutes while other police traced the call, sped to his house and walked in on him while he was still talking.

Officers quoted Waldschmidt as saying, "but I did not kill her," when he first caught sight of them.

Police said Stephanie's body, in a kneeling position by the bed in the disheveled room, was found by Cheryl Gorman, 19, after work.

Stephanie, whose grades were nearly straight A, returned from summer school at Hamilton High School with a girl friend shortly after noon. A neighbor told police she heard a scream from the Gorman house about 4 p.m., but assumed it was Stephanie and Cheryl playing.

Two neighbor girls said they later saw Stephanie's white poodle running loose in the yard, apparently let out of the house by the killer. They told police they put the dog in a bathroom of the Gorman house, called for Stephanie and Cheryl and then left when there was no answer.

Gorman and Cheryl returned from his downtown law office about an hour later and Cheryl found her sister's body. The mother, Julie, returned home 15 minutes later.

Detectives said the girl was known to be athletic and obviously put up a desperate battle against her killer. A chair and lamp were overturned and the bed was pushed from a wall. No gun was found, but four .22-caliber shell casings were on the floor.

Lease Proposal To Be Voted On In September

HOMER (Special) — Qualified property owners will vote on a proposal to lease the Homer Memorial Hospital to the Louisiana Baptist Convention for 10 years in a special election called by the town council, Sept. 7.

The new lease is needed for plans to expand the hospital, officials say.

The hospital was leased to the Baptist Convention for 20 years shortly after its construction in 1949. The lease and contract have been approved by the town council and board of trustees of the hospital and by the executive board of the Louisiana Baptist Convention.

If approval is given the new lease by the voters, certificates of indebtedness will be issued by the town, to be paid for by the hospital out of its earnings.

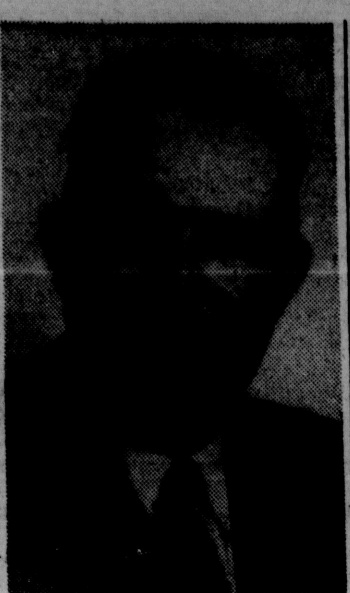

This election "is badly needed for the expansion of the hospital to provide more patient rooms and other facilities to meet the demands of this area," it is officially stated.

State law, passed since the hospital lease, requires a vote before city property can be leased. Also, it requires a rental fee of not less than two per cent per year, based on the total value of the facilities. Payments from the hospital to retire the certificates of indebtedness would exceed two per cent.

Ft. Polk Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee Friday recommended Congress provide $1.700 billion for military construction during the current fiscal year.

The amount is almost $300 million less than the figure requested by the Pentagon.

C. G. Ross, 62, Longtime West Monroyan, Dies

Funeral services will be held today at 3 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in West Monroe for Charles G. Ross, longtime West Monroean resident.

Mr. Ross, 62, of 2604 N. 9th St. died at his home early Friday following a short illness.

A native of Franklin Parish, he was a retired bakery company employe and was well known throughout the Monroe-Winnboro area where he worked for many years.

Mr. Ross was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Services will be conducted by Dr. Clifton Tennison with burial in the Memorial Park Cemetery in Monroe under the direction of the Mulhearn Funeral Home.

Highway Team Of Engineers See 18th Plan

A team of state highway engineers from Baton Rouge have inspected the project here to widen a portion of North Eighteenth Street, according to Monroe Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard and Highway Commissioner James W. Moore.

Howard and Moore said the group inspected the project, meeting later with Monroe city officials for discussion.

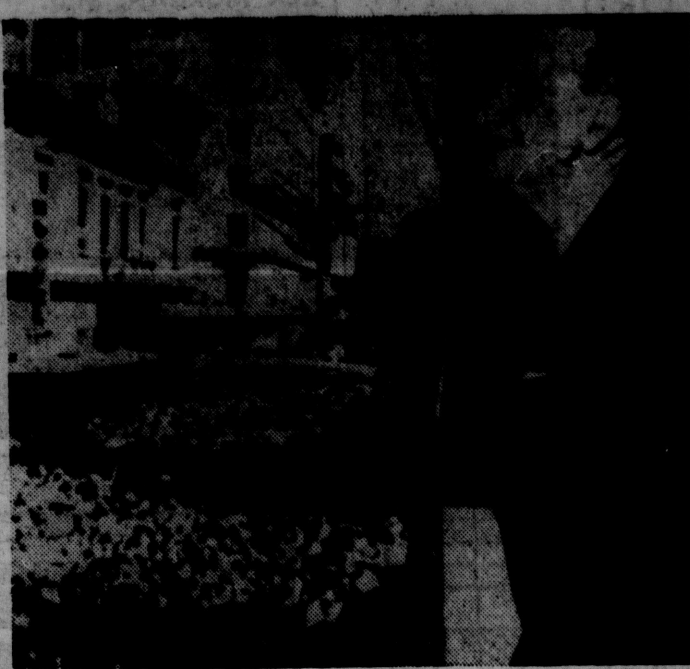

Preliminary construction plans had been completed on the proposal to make Eighteenth a four-lane street from Breard Street to Forsythe Avenue. The Baton Rouge team now has to approve or make necessary alternations in the plans before work begins on the final design.

However, the city has "made strong recommendations that certain changes be made in the plan and design of both the road construction and drainage plans," according to Howard.

Moore said the project will include curbs and gutters and underground drainage. Drainage was one of the items that came under discussion at the meeting of city officials and the inspection team.

Moore said the State Highway Department "is taking care of all sub-surface drainage within the state right-of-way" and that outside this right-of-way "is up to the municipality."

Northeast Gets Research Grant

Word was received here Friday that Northeast Louisiana State College has been awarded a $3,920 grant by the National Science Foundation for support of an undergraduate research participation program in biology.

Dr. Daniel E. Dupree, dean of the School of Pure and Applied Sciences, said that the program will provide stipends for two junior or senior biology majors for work on the research project during the coming academic year and during the 1966 summer session.

Dr. Charles E. DePoe will be project director.

Survey Report Cites Agriculture Potential

A Louisiana State University survey report on non-farm agricultural employment shows potential employment capacity in agricultural occupations in the Monroe-West Monroe area is almost unlimited.

Aimed at pinpointing job opportunities and training needs in nonfarm agriculture, the LSU survey constitutes the first phase of a projected extensive revision of Louisiana's high school vocational agriculture educational program.

The Monroe area survey is one of seven studies made by the LSU department of vocational agriculture education in major metropolitan areas of the state. The project is supported by a grant from the State Board of Liquidation of State Debt, and is sponsored by LSU and the State Board of Education.

The report cited a dire need for further agriculture educational programs in Ouachita Parish to help satisfy some of the employment needs of farm-based businesses and industries of the area.

The report said, "there is much to be desired" in the training possessed by individuals seeking initial employment in businesses allied to agriculture.

Describing the impact of agriculture on the economy of the Monroe area as "tremendous," the LSU survey found 108 agricultural businesses employing 4,110 individuals, of whom 1,255 were required to be competent in agriculture.

It was found that agricultural employers are increasingly expecting individuals to begin their employment without having to be completely trained.

Median beginning salary for the skilled worker was more than $100 higher monthly than that of the unskilled worker, while managerial and supervisory positions frequently offered beginning salaries in excess of $450 monthly.

More than a third of the firms interviewed wanted individuals with a farm residential background or some kind of farm experience. The greatest need for familiarity with agricultural subjects was in the managerial, supervisory, sales and skilled levels of employment, and the greater concentration of continuing education required of employees was centered in the firm or industry school and on-the-job training.

The LSU report made the following recommendations for the Monroe area:

(1) Secondary school guidance personnel should use occupational information in planning educational programs to meet the needs of the individuals and businesses concerned.

(2) The secondary school vocational agriculture programs should have broad scope, providing a basic study of agriculture and functional work experiences.

(3) Secondary school students should have the opportunity to explore areas of interest in vocational programs so that more specific programs of training can be planned.

(4) The demand for workers is sufficient to justify additional sources of trained workers for off-farm agricultural occupations.

(5) Students should become familiar with educational requirements needed to enter the agricultural as well as other occupational fields.

(6) The businessman and educator need to cooperatively plan educational programs in terms of the needs of the prospective workers and the businesses. A compilation of the descriptions of jobs in the Monroe area's agricultural businesses would be useful in educational planning.

If you have a question you want answered, write or call "Mr. Editor, Tell Me, Please" at the Morning World and News-Star. We'll be glad to get the information and pass it on to you in this column.

How old do you have to be to get married in Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico and Nevada? Is there a state where a girl can get married at 16?

In Arizona, a boy must be 18 to get married with parental consent and a girl 16. The boy must be 21 and the girl 18 to get married without consent. In Colorado, the age with consent is 16 for both but 21 for the boy and 18 for the girl without consent. In New Mexico, it is 18 for boys and 16 for girls with consent and 21 for boys and 18 for girls without consent. In Nevada, the age is 18 for boys and 16 for girls with consent and 21 for boys and 18 for girls without consent.

There are no states where a girl can be married at 16 without her parents' consent. But, in addition to the four listed above, there are a number in which a girl can be married at 16 (and a few at 14) if her parents give their consent.

My mother says that movie stars Bob Hope and Red Skelton are the same person. Is this true?

No, it is not. Bob Hope was born in London, England, in 1904. Red Skelton was born in Vincennes, Ind., in 1913.

Do hotels, motels and restaurants come under provisions of the Fair Labor Standard Act (wage and hour law)? If not, will they be included when changes are made in September?

The U.S. Department of Labor informs us that these types of businesses are specifically excluded from coverage under the act and that they will not be included in September under new provisions.

A spokesman for the department said that news releases from a House subcommittee in Washington studying the situation show that recommendations will be made to include these businesses under the law, but the entire Congress would have to approve such changes.

I have heard of the Family Service Association. I believe this organization has something to do with providing homes for foster children. Could you give me the address?

You can write this organization in care of General Director, Clark W. Blackburn, Family Service Association of America, 44 East 23rd St., New York, N.Y. Established in 1911, the association has 315 agencies throughout the nation. Several are in the Ark-La-Miss area.

Where can I obtain a large, very clearly illustrated map of Viet Nam and surrounding area?

A check with Monroe book stores showed no such maps are available locally. The only suggestion we can offer is to consult the atlas volume of an encyclopedia for a map of Asia.

If a high school graduate attended out-of-state high schools but he and his parents are legal residents of Louisiana, does he have to pay out-of-state fees to attend college in this state?

No.

If a person owns a small farm, how much rent can he collect per year without his old age benefit being cut in Louisiana?

We were told the Welfare Department would have to know your total needs before answering that question. As you did not include this information in your letter, we suggest you contact the Ouachita Parish Department of Public Welfare for that information.

What will Louisiana Tech's registration fee for this fall be?

General registration fee is $50, but each student has other fees due that are determined by a number of factors.

A $10 graduation fee is also required upon a registration, along with a student self-assessment charge of $18.40 (which helps pay for the concert series, annual, newspaper and student center fee). These are payable by all students.

An undergraduate student from out of the state is charged an additional $300 out-of-state fee, and a graduate student must pay $350.

Student association fees are also required by certain schools and professional groups, but these, as a rule, do not exceed $1. The ROTC deposit, however, is $10.

These amounts are only registration fees. Room and board charges are computed separately.

Can I purchase a complete book of Heloise contributions?

Write to: Hints From Heloise, King Features Syndicate, 235 East 45th St., New York, N.Y., 10017.

In case the nation is at war when time comes for presidential elections, will elections be held or will the President in office at the time continue for the duration?

Elections will proceed as scheduled under the provisions of statutes and the U.S. Constitution. If you will recall, President Franklin D. Roosevelt defeated Republican candidate Thomas Dewey in 1944 during World War II.

How would I go about getting a pen pal in another city or country?

One of the best and easiest ways would be to write a letter to the Editor of a newspaper in the city where you wish to secure such a pen pal. He will in all probability publish your letter along with your address so that his readers will be informed of your wishes.

I was advised to switch my Series E Bonds to Series H. Will I have to wait 10 years to cash them all?

No. Series H Bonds may be cashed in any time after the first six months following date of issue, providing that you give one calendar month's notice. You may redeem them at any rate that suits you.

What instrument is used for finding buried old gold and silver and where can I get one?

The U.S. Bureau of Mines says the instrument is called a metal detector and gave the following addresses of companies that make them:

"Fisher M-Scope", Fisher Research Laboratories, Inc., Fisher Bldg., 1961 University Ave., Palo Alto, Calif.; J. W. Dice Co., Zone 2, Englewood, N.J.

Four boys, aged four to 12, who live next door to me are continuously throwing rocks. I have a beauty shop in my home, and these boys throw rocks and gravel at my patrons' cars and children. I've had several talks with their parents, which haven't done a bit of good. If these boys break a car window or seriously hurt a child, am I responsible for paying the damages, or are the boys' parents?

A local legal authority answers that the boys' parents will be held responsible for any such damage. However, before such incidents do occur, he recommended that you report any complaints to the parish juvenile officers.

Why is the tennis court operated by the city of West Monroe in such run-down condition?

Bobby Wilson, who is in charge of West Monroe's summer recreation program, said that two new tennis nets, costing $88, were installed Friday.

The city was using steel nets on the courts, but Wilson said that extreme vandalism forced them to return to regular nets. Recreation officials ordered the nets two weeks ago and had been awaiting shipment. The nets will be removed every night to prevent further vandalism damage.

What effect does D.D.T. have on a person if he puts it out on his cotton. I have heard that it will get in your blood. But how does it affect you when it gets in your blood?

Dr. W. Carroll Summer, head of the Ouachita Parish Health Unit said that there should be no particular danger if just plain D.D.T. is used, properly and it is not mixed with some other chemical. He said that during a typhus outbreak in Italy 16 per cent D.D.T. was dusted on the people in the affected areas, and that it has been used to dust children's heads for lice infestation. D.D.T. should always be used according to the manufacturer's directions with any prescribed precautions in its handling and application being taken.

Senate Applause Greets Johnson; Interrupts Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson paid a three-minute visit Friday to the Senate chamber where he formerly served as a senator from Texas and Democratic leader.

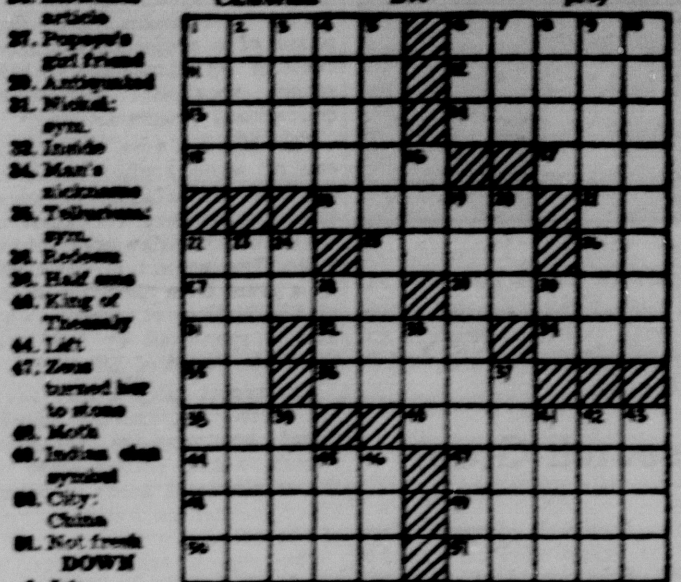

Those in the Senate gallery and senators and attendants applauded as the chief executive stepped onto the floor.

Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., was making a speech to the nearly empty chamber when Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana interrupted to ask a recess for a visit "by our former colleague, the President of the United States."

Senate aides said it was the President's first visit to the chamber at a time when the Senate was in session since he became President in November 1963.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. 8-7

Page Boys Called In To Hear LBJ Speak

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five hundred chairs had been placed in the rotunda under the Capitol dome but a whole section in the rear was empty when President Johnson made his speech Friday on the voting rights legislation.

To help fill up other chairs, page boys from the House and Senate along with congressional aides were allowed to sit in them.

Foreign diplomats moved up from the rear to help fill seats in the front.

Thirty of the 100 senators took seats in front of the President. Two were Southerners. One was Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., who acted as leader of the Dixie forces who battled the bill as punitive and unconstitutional.

After the President finished his 20-minute address, Ellender told a reporter it was "a fine political speech."

The other Southern senator present was B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C. He slipped into a seat after Johnson had begun talking.

One Southern senator — Strom Thurmond, R-S.C. — issued a statement saying he wanted to be recorded as absent. He also said Johnson should have had civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr. cosign the bill or else have signed it as King's agent.

In addition to the 30 senators who sat in front of the President as he spoke, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois were seated to one side.

They were in the official Senate escort party, along with Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., the Senate's president pro tempore; and Sens. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Van Dellen

THE CIRCLE BED

Some hospital beds are fascinating. Press certain buttons and they go up, down, tilt near the foot to flex the legs, or lift the head end to allow the occupant to sit. The device can do many things, but will not put the patient to sleep unless he is tired and comfortable.

The circle (Circoelectric) bed consists of two large parallel hoops in which a mattress is fastened. There are no legs. The patient assumes the upright position by rolling the hoops forward. At this point he may step out of bed instead of first sitting up, and then putting the legs over the side, and reaching for the floor. This has many obvious advantages, especially when the patient has arthritis, paralysis, or bladder trouble.

When the bed is horizontal, a special canvas rig can be inserted into place over the body of the patient. The hoops are rolled 180 degrees until the individual is on the abdomen instead of the back. He is now supported by the rig which is lowered away from the mattress. This exposes the back for cleansing, an alcohol rub, removing pressure from a bed sore, or just a welcome change in posture. The man or woman may remain on the tummy for hours, reading or watching TV. This bed is most helpful in the nursing care of a person with certain fractures, extensive burns, stroke, or recent surgery.

The floating bed is a newcomer that sounds more interesting than practical. The individual lies on a waterproof sheet that is placed over a tank of water. Levers at the foot of the bed control the temperature and circulation of the water.

The device was developed originally to simulate weightlessness for manned flight research. The occupant is buoyantly supported with minimum pressure on any part of the body. We have no way of judging how it compares with an air mattress and time will tell whether it is of medical value.

POLYP GROWER
J. A. writes: My husband has polyps in his nose and has them removed periodically. Tests show he is allergic to watermelon and milk, two items he never contacts. How can this be explained?

REPLY
This case represents a common problem in allergy. A person may be sensitive to a thousand irritants but unless they are touched, inhaled, or swallowed, how can they possibly cause symptoms? Exceptions occur when the offender is hidden. Your husband may ride on a bus or in an elevator with women passengers wearing fur coats which may be mink. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on nasal polyps.

NIGHTLY SOAK
G. D. writes: Is there any harm in soaking in the bathtub for an hour every night?

REPLY
A 20 to 30 minute soak eases tension, but why an hour? You should be able to think of a better way to spend your time.

STEAM BATHS AND MASSAGE

T. S. writes: Do you recommend steam baths and massage for a healthy person of 59?

REPLY
There is no harm. The baths are cleansing and the massage is soothing.

Washington Roundup

Senators Approve Welfare Secretary

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington: GARDNER OKAYED — President Johnson's nomination of John W. Gardner of New York City to be secretary of welfare was approved by the Senate Finance Committee on Friday, sending it to the full Senate for action.

Gardner, president of the Carnegie Corp., was selected for the Cabinet post to replace Anthony J. Celebrezze, who is resigning to accept an appointment to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the 6th Circuit in Cincinnati.

Gardner, a Republican, is a former college teacher and holder of a Ph.D. degree from the University of California. While serving as president of the parent corporation, he has been head of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, a subsidiary. Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., who presided at the Finance Committee meeting, said the vote to recommend confirmation was unanimous. The committee also approved the nomination of W. True Davis Jr. of Missouri to be an assistant secretary of the Treasury.

'Copter Death Shatters Hopes For Hoosiers

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)

— A helicopter crash which killed an Indianapolis stockbroker a month ago has shattered dreams of financial security for hundreds of Hoosiers who had invested millions in life insurance stock.

The stockbroker, Michael Dobich, 38, was the lone wolf head of a growing concern known as Dobich Securities Corp. His firm had mushroomed from a one-room operation to a luxurious suite within a year's time. He loved to fly about the state in his own helicopter, sometimes landing on his clients' lawns.

Last July 10, Dobich's helicopter was being repaired. But he wanted to show his flying skill at a party in an Indianapolis suburb and rented a helicopter for the occasion. The high point of the party came when he took guests up for a whirl.

Dobich was giving his young secretary a ride when the helicopter crashed into a field. She was injured and he was killed. Authorities are still investigating the cause and circumstances of the crash.

Three days later, Dobich's associates filed for bankruptcy. Their action triggered a broad investigation, not only of the Dobich firm but also of the effectiveness of the securities laws in Indiana.

On order of a bankruptcy court referee, attorneys for Dobich Friday produced a list of more than 550 persons who are believed to have lost $2.9 million by investing through Dobich in stock in the Midwest United Life Insurance Co., Fort Wayne, Ind. They never received the stock certificates, investigators said.

Dobich's associates described him as a lone wolf operator who kept much of his bookkeeping in his head.

Donald Buttrey, an attorney named receiver in bankruptcy for Dobich, has estimated Dobich and more than two dozen agents took orders for more than $6 million worth of stock in Midwest United in recent months. Evidence indicates nearly half the stock sold was never delivered to the buyers, Buttrey said.

BREAK WITH SUKARNO — Sen. Birch Bayh D-Ind., said Friday it is time for the administration to consider seriously recalling its ambassador and severing relations with Indonesia.

Bayh's statement mentioned "a new series of insults and government-inspired threats from mobs" directed at Ambassador Marshall Green.

The Indiana Democrat said this country was intentionally slow in cutting off aid to Indonesia because it helped keep thousands of Indonesians free from "the ravages of hunger and disease."

"But," Bayh added, President Sukarno "apparently prefers to see his people hungry and ill than to act with even a minimum of reason toward the United States."

Bayh said the United States must seriously consider severing relations with the Sukarno government "until it is replaced — or until Mr. Sukarno begins behaving more like a chief of state than a spoiled and dangerously mischievous little boy."

WEATHER ROCKETS — U.S. and Latin-American experts concluded Friday a two-day meeting to draw up plans for a study of weather patterns in the southern regions of this hemisphere using meteorological sounding rockets.

In addition to the United States, Argentina, Brazil and Mexico attended the meeting at Wallops Island, Va., sponsored by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The first launches are scheduled before the end of this year. An experimental meteorological sounding rocket network has been agreed upon whereby such rockets will be launched on a coordinated basis from the United States, Brazil and Argentina. Other hemisphere countries may participate later.

Data obtained by each country will be shared with other participants in the network.

Bayles Chairs Beauty Pageant

West Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce members have named Billy Bayles to act as general chairman of the 1966 Miss West Monroe Beauty Pageant to be held in conjunction with the citywide Tulip Festival next April.

Bayles was named at the Thursday night meeting of the Jaycees in the home of Billy Farr.

In other action, the group named John Cordaro as membership chairman for the coming year.

John Huarte Rally In 2nd Half Short

CHICAGO (AP) — The Cleveland Browns withstood a furious, two-touchdown rally engineered by John Huarte and the College All-Stars Friday night and stalked off with a 24-16 victory in the 32nd annual All-Star game.

The National Football League champion Browns had forged a 24-3 lead before the crowd of 68,000 and Vice President Hubert Humphrey before Huarte, of Notre Dame and the New York Jets, entered the game.

He promptly started the All-Stars on an 80-yard drive, completing six passes for 68 yards, for one touchdown, and passed for 54 more in still another touchdown march.

In the end it was sweeping punt returns, the hard running of Jimmy Brown and the hard passing of Frank Ryan that broke the back of the College All-Stars.

Intermittent rain failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the crowd which cheered Huarte.

With four minutes to play, the All-Stars blocked a field goal try of the Browns from the 25 and again Huarte took over. This time, however, the Browns smothered the attack.

There were two costly injuries. Paul Warfield, Browns flanker, received a broken left clavicle, and Roger Staubach, the Navy quarterback who was the early spark of the All-Stars, received a possible dislocated left shoulder after only 19 minutes of play.

The punt returns cost the College All-Stars dearly as a blocked kick close to their own goal. Walter Roberts set up the first Brown touchdown with a 45-yard return and Leroy Kelly the third with a 37-yard return.

Kelly's 37-yard dash set up a 10-yard TD pass from Ryan to Gary Collins for a 24-3 Brown lead.

Huarte, entering midway in the period, completed six straight passes in an 80-yard march, capped by the Irish star's five-yard shot to Yale's Chuck Mercein.

Mercein's point try was blocked. And the All-Stars trailed 24-9.

Roberts' 45-yard punt return set up the first Brown touchdown in the opening period.

CHICAGO (AP) — Statistics of the College All-Stars Cleveland Browns football game:

placing the ball on the All-Star 36. A penalty put it back on the 44.

Frank Ryan immediately passed to Gary Collins for 26, and then to Ernie Green for eight, and finally with the ball on the seven, Jimmy Brown hit the right side of the line for the touchdown, with Lou Groza converting.

With the All-Stars pushed back to their 17 in the second period, Frank Lambert's attempted punt from his four was blocked by Jamie Caleb and promptly recovered in the end zone for a touchdown by Stan Szurek, and again Groza converted. Groza also kicked a 30-yard field goal shortly before the half ended to make the score 17-3 in favor of the Browns.

Alison snapped a tie with a two-run homer and Zoilo Versailles added a three-run homer in the sixth inning as the Minnesota Twins ripped Boston 9-3 Friday night and extended their American League lead to 6½ games.

In between home runs, rain delayed the game for an hour and 35 minutes.

Allison's 18th homer, following Jimmie Hall's single, broke a 2-2 deadlock.

Don Mincher singled following Allison's homer and Earl Battey beat out a bunt single before the rain came. When play resumed, the Twins scored one run on Lee Thomas' error before Versailles unloaded his 14th home run for three more.

Rookie Jim Merritt recorded his first major league victory although he wasn't around at the end. Because of the long delay, Manager Sam Mele replaced Merritt for the seventh inning, and Dwight Siebler finished up. Merritt allowed four hits in six innings, including Felix Mantilla's 14th homer.

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP) — Chuck McKinley of Port Washington, N.Y., and Gene Scott of St. James, N.Y., each a past winner, won quarter-final matches in the Nassau Bowl invitation grass court tennis tournament Friday.

McKinley, the defender who is seeded second to Australia's Roy Emerson, advanced to the semifinals by whipping fifth-seeded Roger Taylor of Great Britain, 6-1, 6-1.

Scott, seeded third and winner two years ago when he downed Taylor in the final, had to beat off the determined bid of sixth-seeded Tom Edleson of Los Angeles before winning 8-6, 8-6.

McKinley ranked second in the U.S., was surprisingly sharp in all departments, considering this was his first tournament since a July Fourth weekend event in Detroit. It was his first competition on grass since the U.S. Championships at Forest Hills, N.Y., last September.

Scott, ranked fifth in the country, had a somewhat shaky start against a determined Edleson. He rallied from 15-40 to hold service and then was victim of a perfectly placed lob to come within a point of losing service in the 12th game of the opening stanza with Edleson ahead, 6-5, in games.

Rogers Werksman of Los Angeles defeated Vladimir Petrov 6-3, 5-7, 6-2. Bill Hoogs of Berkeley, Calif., was beaten by Valeri Burko 3-6, 9-7, 6-3.

Stunned U.S. Athletes Begin 'Touch-Go' Meet

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — United States track and field forces, still reeling from their Russian defeat, go against Poland today in the start of a two-day dual meet that Coach Brutus Hamilton describes as touch and go.

"The Poles are high after their impressive victory over Britain last week the veteran University of California coach said Friday. "We can't look on this as a fun meeting. It could be very close."

However, despite loss of sprinting ace Darel Newman of Visalia, Calif., half-miler Morgan Groth of Martinez, Calif.,

dash, a dream contest involving three co-holders of the world record, and the men's 400 meters, matching Ollan Cassell of Nutley, N.J., and Poland's Andrzej Badenski, bronze medalist in the Tokyo Olympics.

The women's 100 pits Wyomia Tyus, the Olympic champion, against Ewa Klobowoska and Irena Kirszenstein with Diana Wilson of Los Angeles the fourth woman on the starting line.

The two Polish girls set the world record of 11.1 seconds three weeks ago in Prague only to have Miss Tyus equal it in the meet against Russia.

The 19-year-old Miss Tyus of Griffin, Ga., predicted that it may take a record 11 seconds flat or better to win today.

The track-minded Poles stand on street corners and bet their zlotys that Badenski will take Cassell in the men's 400. The Pole outran Cassell in the Olympics at Tokyo last year. Each has clocked 45.6 seconds.

The only apparently sure shots for the United States in the opinion of Hamilton are the 800, where Tom Farrell and George Germann have much better times, and the shot put, with Randy Matson and John McGrath.

George Anderson of Baton Rouge, La., injured earlier, apparently will be okay and will run the 100 with Fred Kuller of Garden Grove, Calif.

The make-shift 400-meter relay team, whose loss to the Russians proved costly, probably will consist of Don Owens, Adolph Plummer, Jim Hines and Anderson.

Schul, with an aggravated achilles tendon, is a doubtful starter. If he cannot run, Gerry Lindgren of Spokane, Wash., will be moved from the 10,000 meters to the 5,000 where he will be paired with Ron Larrie of Los Angeles. Bill Mills of Oceanside, Calif., the Olympic champion who missed the Russian meet, and Bill Morgan of San Francisco are slated for the 10,000.

Monroe's Seniors Lose; Reach Finals

MERIDIAN, Miss. (Special) — Monroe's Dixie Seniors suffered their first setback, 2-0, at the hands of defending champion Myrtle Grove, Fla., Friday night, but drew a bye into the championships of the World Series tonight.

Monroe committed two errors and the Florida squad pushed over one run on a sacrifice fly to take the win.

The finals are set for 8:30 p.m. today with a morning game to determine Monroe's opponent for the championship tilt.

Three teams finished Friday night with one loss.

Tom Brown has drawn the starting assignment for the title game. He tossed four innings against Georgia Monday night for a win.

Florida's Gorday reached first in the sixth inning on an error. A single moved him to second and he advanced to third on a wild pitch before coming home on a throwing error. A sacrifice fly by Toole scored Scott, who had singled Gorday to second.

Monroe collected four hits with Charles Floyd accounting for two. Skeeter LaSuzzo and Jay Eppinette had singles. Florida mustered five hits off Kenny Cupples, who went the distance for the Monroe team.

West Monroe Knocked Out Of Youth Meet

SPRINGHILL (Special) — Metairie's Steve Montgomery drove in two runs with doubles as Metairie eliminated West Monroe from the Louisiana Dixie Youth Baseball tournament, 2-0, here Friday night.

Metairie will take on Alexandria tonight at 7:30 with the winner traveling to the Dixie Youth World Series at Greensboro, South Carolina.

Montgomery drove in the two runs with a double in the left field corner in the third inning and a two-base blow against the left field fence in the fifth.

But the game was actually won on a last inning defensive move. Before the start of the last inning, Metairie sent in Ed Winter to play center field, replacing the shorter De'Aunoy.

With one man on base, Roger Lindsey sent a cinch home run blast to dead center. Winter then leaped high against the scoreboard and pulled the ball back in for the out.

Winning pitchers Kirk Koppens struck out 14 and walked only two.

Buddy Fisher, the losing West Monroe hurler, was touched for six hits but was effective except for Montgomery's two doubles.

Major Pro Clubs Start Exhibitions

By The Associated Press
Joe Namath, Cookie Gilchrist, Rick Casares, Ernie Ladd — some of the most expensive bits of beef in pro football history — are scheduled for severe tests under unfamiliar conditions this weekend as major league football clubs open their exhibition season.

Namath, the rookie quarterback from Alabama signed for a reported $400,000 by the New York Jets of the American League is due to make his first appearance with the varsity tonight in an exhibition against the Houston Oilers at Alexandria, Va.

Casares, a 34-year-old full-back traded to Washington by the Chicago Bears during the off season, makes his debut for the Redskins against the Philadelphia Eagles this afternoon at Hershey, Pa. His performance may be the key to the Redskins success during the National Football League season. The other weekend games, all involving American League clubs, are Kansas City at Denver and Oakland at San Diego tonight and Buffalo at Boston Sunday afternoon.

A new television line-up will show two games on national networks. The Redskins-Eagles game will be televised by CBS and the clash between the AFL champion Buffalo Bills and the Boston Patriots. By NBC - CBS also will tape the Baltimore Colts intra-squad scrimmage today for a Sunday afternoon showing.

Although the early season exhibitions are used principally to try out rookie talent, many of the top college players of 1964 will merely be bench warmers this weekend. Most members of the College All-Star team which played the Cleveland Browns at Chicago Friday night were due to report immediately to their pro teams, but they'll see little, if any, game action.

Philadelphia and Washington tied for third in the NFL's Eastern Conference last season and both hope to do better this year. If Casares can do the job as a

Hal Lanier Paces Giants Past Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Hal Lanier doubled home two runs and then scored on Dick Groat's bad throw as the San Francisco Giants nipped the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2 Friday night.

Lanier's hit to left center came with two out in the fourth inning off loser Ray Sadecki after Willie Mays walked and Willie McCovey singled.

Shortstop Groat's relay trying to get McCovey at the plate bounced away from catcher Tim McCarver, and Lanier slid home with the decisive run.

The Cardinals had taken a 1-0 lead off Gaylord Perry in the third inning when Lou Brock singled, Groat walked, Curt Flood was hit by a pitch and Bill White singled. But right fielder Jesus Alou threw out Groat trying to score on the play.

Brock closed the gap to one run in the seventh inning when he tripled over Mays' head and scored on Groat's sacrifice fly. Another hit in the inning kayoed Perry.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jim Bunning shut out Pittsburgh on five hits, striking out 12 along the way, as Philadelphia defeated the Pirates 4-0 and halted their winning streak at five Friday night.

Johnny Callison's 25th homer into the left field stands at the start of the fourth inning was the big blow in the Phillies' third straight victory. Tony Gonzalez, who had three singles, drove in Rich Allen with another run in the same inning.

Cookie Rojas doubled in two more runs in the seventh.

Bunning, now 13-7, almost didn't get past the first inning. Bob Bailey opened the game with a single and went to third on Bill Virdon's double against the right field wall. Roberto Clemente loaded the bases when Allen bobbled the slow roller for an error.

Bunning then struck out Willie Stargell and Donn Clendenon and got Bill Mazeroski on a fly to center.

Bob Friend suffered his ninth defeat in 14 decisions.

Representatives from 14 state game and fish agencies in the Mississippi Flyway met at St. Louis. The recommendations are made to the Federal Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wild Life.

The only change recommended was that the possession limit on geese be twice that of the bag limit. Last year, the bag limit and possession limit were the same.

The council proposed that there be a 70 day season for geese with a bag limit of five, including two Canada geese. They asked that the goose hunting seasons be scheduled between Oct. 1 and Jan. 15.

For ducks, the commission asked for a 40-day season scheduled between Oct. 6 and Jan. 9. They proposed a bag limit of four with no more than two black ducks or mallards or one of each.

States in the Mississippi Flyway are Missouri, Illinois, Kentucky, Louisiana, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Indiana, Ohio, Alabama, Mississippi and Michigan.

Colts' Offenses Practice Scoring From 80 Yards

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — The Baltimore Colts offense practiced Friday on scoring from its own 20-yard line within two minutes and both the first and second teams succeeded.

Quarterback John Unitas and his crew went the distance with only one running play by full-back Jerry Hill, while ends John Mackey and Raymond Berry were catching passes.

Second string quarterback Gary Cuozzo also took his team in for a touchdown on passes to Butch Wilson and Alex Hawk.

running threat along with Charley Taylor, last year's sensational rookie, the Redskins may be contenders.

Coach Joe Kuharich's search for new talent to continue the Eagles' rise, has been hampered by injuries. Sophomore quarterback Jack Concannon suffered an off-season injury and guard Ray Rissmiller, regarded as Philadelphia's best rookie, was hurt in practice for the All-Star game.

Gilchrist, the controversial fullback who was Buffalo's big man last season, was traded to Denver for Billy Joe, who'll play for the Bills Sunday. Gilchrist reported late after an argument with the Broncos management, but he's likely to see some action, along with veteran Abner Haynes.

Ladd, the huge tackle who was suspended and fined by San Diego after a wordy exchange with Coach Sid Gillman, re-joined the team Thursday. He may not be in shape to play much against Oakland. The Raiders, with Cotton Davidson suffering from a sore arm, will go all the way with Tom Flores at quarterback.

Namath, whose damaged right knee stood up through a rookie scrimmage against Boston, is slated to quarterback the Jets through the second and third quarters against Houston. Sophomore Mike Taliaferro, Coach Webb Ewbank's only experienced signal caller, is to start and finish.

The Boston-Buffalo game will be a test for Joe Bellino, who is trying to make it in pro football with the Pats after a four-year term in the Navy. Boston will be hampered by the loss of Gino Cappelletti, veteran flanker and place kicker who was the AFL's leading scorer last year. He sprained his left ankle in practice.

The Eddie Hill Set To Run Dragster At Harmon Strip

Nationally famous dragster pilot, Eddie Hill in his twin engine blown Pontiac powered AA-fuel dragster will be on hand tonight at Harmon Raceway in a best of three match race against Danny Rightsell.

The Hill dragster is one of the most powerful machines in the nation, with the two engines capable of 811 cubic inch displacement. Rightsell, known throughout racing circles as the Texas Longhorn, will be powered by his blown Chrysler engine that presently holds the Harmon track record for the lowest elapsed time for the full quarter mile of 7.62.

Track officials anticipate a record shattering series of heats between the two nationally rated dragsters.

The second feature match race in the dragster field, will pit "Butch" Cheeseman of Crossett, Ark., against Don Craig of New Orleans. Both drivers and their AA-fuel dragsters are familiar to the racing crowds in this tri-state area, and are closely matched for this best of three event. Also with top money in the competition eliminator class A large turnout of altered, gasdragsters, and sports roadsters.

There will also be the complete trophy eliminations in all stock classes, with time trials beginning at 4 p.m. and eliminations starting at 7:30 p.m.

Stengel Still Boss Of Mets

NEW YORK (AP) — Casey Stengel, continuing his steady recovery from a recent hip operation, left no doubt Friday that he was still the boss man of the New York Mets.

Still up in the air, however, is whether the 75-year-old baseball marvel will be back at the helm next year.

In his first news conference since his confinement nearly two weeks ago, Stengel said he expected to leave the hospital in about five days, with orders to rest in his apartment for at least two or three weeks.

Asked if he would be managing again before the season was over, Stengel sat straight up in his wheel chair, gripped the sides hard with both hands and replied:

"I wouldn't tell you and I couldn't tell you. But if you want to know the truth, I'll tell you. I'm still the manager of this here club.

"The coaches consult with me every day and every move that's made is done after they consult with me — beforehand."

Stengel's words poured from his lips so fast and furious that at one point his nurse hurried to his side to make sure he didn't attempt to stand up without assistance.

11th Inning Single Trips Dodgers, 5-4

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds lashed four home runs Friday night but had to call on Jim Coker for a pinch single in the 11th inning for the winning run in a 5-4 decision over the National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

Coker, batting for Bill McCool, singled to left with one out, driving in pinch runner Marty Keough. Keough had come in to run for Don Pavlich after his leadoff single. Charlie James' sacrifice moved the winning run into position.

The Dodgers tied it twice, in the second on a single and two Reds' errors, and the last time at 4-4 in the eighth when Wes Parker walked, advanced on a wild pitch and scored on John Roseboro's single.

The Reds' first four runs came on solo homers, Pavlich's eighth, Pete Rose's ninth, Deron Johnson's 21st and Tommy Harper's 12th.

Palmer 'Too Tired' To Finish Tourney

WHITEMARSH, Pa. (AP) — Arnold Palmer quit the $125,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic Friday, saying he was "just plain too tired to continue."

Dejected after a five-over-par round of 77, Palmer, one of the great golfers of all time, packed his clubs and flew home in his own plane to rest up for next week's PGA championship over his home Laurel Valley Country Club course near Pittsburgh.

"I don't remember ever doing what I did on the golf course today," Palmer said as he sat in front of his locker at the Whitemarsh Valley Country Club.

Palmer, who has won every major championship golf has to offer but the PGA, said he had withdrawn from a tournament before, but he couldn't recall when.

State General Is Party To Legal Dispute

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The attorney general of Wisconsin became a party to the legal dispute between Milwaukee and the National League Braves Friday with a court action aimed at the heart of baseball—the reserve clause and the authority of the baseball commissioner.

Atty. Gen. Bronson C. LaFollette filed the action in the Milwaukee County Circuit Court against the National League and its 16 members.

He charged they had engaged "in a continuing contract, combination or conspiracy in unreasonable restraint of trade both within and without the state...in violation of state law and a common law."

Last Tuesday, Milwaukee County contended in a U.S. District Court suit that the league and its members had violated the Sherman antitrust act in approving transfer of the Braves to Atlanta and by refusing to grant Milwaukee another baseball franchise.

The City of Milwaukee asked Thursday to be made a plaintiff in that suit.

LaFollette's action asked, as did the county, that an order be issued preventing the Braves from playing home games any place except County Stadium unless a new franchise is granted to the county or to the newly incorporated Milwaukee Brewers Baseball Club, Inc.

The club was formed earlier in the week by a group of businessmen, including Robert A. Uihlein Jr., president of the Jos. Schlitz Brewing Co.

National League President Warren Giles said in Cincinnati that "it would be inappropriate for me to comment," since he had not seen LaFollette's complaint.

LaFollette's complaint contended that the National League constitution, and its agreement with club owners, created a monopoly in the right to employ the services of major league quality, and the power to determine the time and place of the exhibition and broadcast of all major league games.

In addition, he said under the alleged monopoly the league prescribed elaborate rules governing all relationships among the teams, owners, agents and players, making the baseball commissioner the final authority, and prohibiting appeals of any decisions to the courts.

This, LaFollette claimed, prevents competition among players to sell their services and prevents others from organizing teams to hire the players.

Palmer, who had won every major championship golf has to offer but the PGA, said he had withdrawn from a tournament before, but he couldn't recall when.

ly had not been in the last five years.

Palmer, who hadn't planned to play at Whitemarsh, described himself as physically tired.

"The way I played on the back nine proves it," said the winner of 43 tournaments since he started on the pro golf trail in 1954.

The 5-foot-10 Palmer said he recalled wanting to pull out of the Thunderbird tournament in 1962, when he was not playing very well, but didn't.

The 35-year-old belter from Latrobe, Pa., holds the tour's single season money winning record of $123,230, set in 1963. He indicated his frame of mind in June when after a poor round in the U.S. Open at St. Louis, he said something about wishing to withdraw. He failed to qualify for the final two rounds of the Open.

There was no indication earlier Friday that Palmer would quit the tournament. He shot a three-under-par 69 in the first round and was five strokes off the pace.

Palmer started off well Friday. He toured the front nine in two-under-par 34 and was five under regulation after 27 holes.

But on the 10th hole, Palmer's game suddenly collapsed. He earned six bogeys and a double bogey on the next seven holes before pulling out of the tailspin on the 515-yard 17th hole with a birdie 4, and finishing with a par on 18.

Tournament director Paul Warren said that Palmer had agreed to play at Whitemarsh only if he was given permission to withdraw if he was not in contention for top money.

Palmer, incidentally, would have just qualified for the final two rounds of the Philadelphia classic. The field was cut to 70 after the second round, and Palmer would have been 70th.

White Sox Defeat Tribe With 15 Hits

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox, taking advantage of a couple of mental blunders, pounded out 15 hits and whipped the Cleveland Indians 11-5 Friday.

Johnny Romano's 10th home run and clutch hitting by J.C. Martin and Don Buford highlighted the victory, which went to Joe Horlen. Martin had a double and two singles and drove in five runs. Buford batted in three runs with a double and single.

Rocky Colavito had four of Cleveland's 13 hits, which included Leon Wagner's 20th home run.

Cleveland's first mental error came in the second when Ken Berry singled Ron Hansen to third and stole second as he caught Pedro Gonzalez napping out of position while shortstop Larry Brown held the ball and talked to pitcher Ralph Terry.

After pitcher Joe Horlen drew a walk, Buford doubled home two runs to give the Sox a 3-1 lead. Manager Birdie Tobbetts stormed out of the dugout and waived Gonzalez off the field.

The next batter came from the Cleveland bench. In the Chicago fifth, Martin batted for Horlen and doubled to score one run and put two men in scoring position, both of whom eventually scored to put Chicago ahead 5-1.

Hoyt Wilhelm was the new Sox pitcher and Martin remained in the game. With two out and a man on second in the Chicago sixth, Berry, a 199 batter who swings right, was purposely passed by right-hander Gary Bell.

The Cleveland bench apparently thought Wilhelm was the next batter. Martin, sensing what was happening, never came out to the on-deck circle. But the left-handed swinging Martin did come to bat and singled home another run.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Gene Oliver drove in four runs with a double and a homer, powering Milwaukee and Tony Cloninger to an 8-4 triumph over Houston Friday night.

Oliver put the Braves in front in the third inning with his double after Hank Aaron got the first of his three hits, a double, and Ed Mathews was walked intentionally.

Ron Taylor, making his first start of the season, walked Aaron in the fifth before Oliver connected for his 11th homer.

Pine Hills Sets Sunday Activity

Members of the Pine Hills Gun Club will hold a registered 100-target skeet shoot Sunday at the Bancroft Camp on Puckett Lake.

The winner in Sunday's shoot will be named the club skeet champion for 1965 and will be given a patch for his club shoot jacket.

In last Sunday's activities R. T. Lolley and Bert Williams, both shooting handicaps on the trap field, tied with 92 out of a possible 100. Lolley was shooting from 20 yards and Williams from 21.

Pressing closely with 91 out of 100 was Hugh Spurlock, shooting from 20 yards.

In the skeet field, four persons shot 25 straight. They were E.L. (Pop) Walker, Jim Dozier Sr., Jim Dozier Jr., and Kent Anderson.

Swimming Meet On Tap Today

At Grambling

GRAMBLING (Special) — Over 100 contestants have posted entries for the first annual state-wide Swimming and Diving Championship at Grambling College today.

The 36-event card will get underway at 8 a.m. at the college swimming pool.

Trials will be held during the morning session in 15 events including the free style, butterfly, and backstroke in all five divisions.

Ten finals will be held during the morning session. These events comprise the one meter diving; 100 medley relay; 200 meter medleys, and the 100 and 200 meter individual medley relays.

Stellar attraction is expected to come from the senior division in the 400 yards medley relay, the 100 yard backstroke and the 400 yd. free style relays as area top teams battle for top honors.

Holocaust At Hiroshima Observed

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP) — A crowd of 300,000 — perhaps three times the number killed in the world's first atomic bombing stood quietly here Friday marking the 20th anniversary of the city's holocaust.

A typhoon, whose rains held off until after the ceremony, discouraged the usual antibomb rallies.

Vendors offered ice cream and goldfish as a new list of 469 names of atomic victims was placed in a concrete receptacle under the cenotaph. It brought the Japanese death list to 61,447. Japanese estimated the toll of dead and maimed at 200,000. American officials say perhaps 80,000 were killed.

The typhoon, which battered the city most of the day, washed out noisy ban-the-bomb demonstrations by outsiders that have marred the observance in past years.

Now a bustling and prosperous city, Hiroshima's population is 520,000 persons. It was 400,000 when the bomb was dropped.

To about four-fifths of the population, the bombing is not a personal thing. Over the years, the anniversary has become tinged with a carnival atmosphere, mixed with the real grief of 93,000 survivors and their relatives.

At 8:15 a.m. — the moment 20 years ago when a U.S. B29 dropped the world's first nuclear bomb on a populated area — the city came to a standstill. Sirens, gongs and church bells sounded.

Nasser, Guinean For No Raids

CAIRO, U.A.R. (UPI)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the U.A.R. and Sekou Toure of Guinea called on the United States Friday to halt air raids on North Viet Nam.

They made the call in a communique issued at the end of Toure's two-day stop in Cairo to see Nasser on his way home from visits to Russia and Yugoslavia.

Open Klan Probe Set For Fall

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities announced Friday it will start open hearings some time in October in its four-month-old investigation of the Ku Klux Klan.

Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., declined to say who or how many would be called to testify, but it was learned that 160 subpoenas had been issued.

President Johnson, in announcing the arrest of four

Klansmen in connection with the murder of a civil rights worker near Selma, Ala., March 26, asked Congress to investigate the secret order.

Rep. Charles L. Weltner, D-Ga., a new member of the Un-American Activities Committee, formally called for the investigation.

Willis said in announcing the public hearings "it would not be in the best interest of the investigation" to state how many subpoenas had been served or how many witnesses had been questioned by the committee. However, he said "a large number of persons" had been interviewed by committee staff members since the investigation was announced March 30.

He said the starting date of the hearings was indefinite, but that they would begin "some time in October, and no later than the 20th."

Hints From Heloise

Clean Vacuum Brush Leaves Clean Carpet

By Heloise Cruse

Dear Folks: Most of us have a carpet sweeper or vacuum cleaner.

Have you ever thought that the brush on it accumulates soil, caron, picks up threads, hairs, and a multitude of other things on our floors?

Get it right now (Stop, and don't read further 'til you look).

What did I tell you? Isn't it loaded with strings, etc?

Get out your scissors. CUT between the brushes. (Remove the brush if you know how. It's easy.) Pick off all those strings and accumulated gatherings that are stuck to the brushes.

Then, WASH that bristle brush in some good detergent suds, and rinse well. Bet you will be surprised how soiled the water is. Perhaps it will have to be washed more than once.

Remember, when we sweep a soiled floor or carpet with a brush full of accumulated soil and carbon, it only spreads the dirt and soils the carpet more.

So, let's keep 'em clean, eh? Heloise

Now, that's a corker if I ever heard one.

Many interior decorators tell us that if you don't want something to show, paint it the same color as something surrounding it!

This also goes for waste baskets, garbage cans (that means wherever you put the can. If your garage is blue, paint the garbage can blue if it sits by the side of the garage. . . and it doesn't show).

Dear Heloise: I wish to add a little something to your hint for making "slip - covers" for oven-mitts and potholders . . . to keep them nice and clean.

I make my slip - covers from the little - used end of an old silicone ironing board cover. Be sure to make them large enough to cover the quilted mitten, and to give the hand freedom to bend and to grasp a hot utensil.

The silicone reflects heat and protects your hands much better than a plain mitt.

Dear Heloise: When making potato salad, the cut - up potatoes seem to absorb the flavor of onion, celery, eggs, and salad dressing much better if all the ingredients are mixed while the potatoes are still warm.

Mr. Steve Boulet Absolutely true. Heloise

LETTER OF LOVE: Dear Heloise: For special occasions, such as birthdays, get - well, etc., I always make my own greeting cards to send to members of my family and special friends.

They are cut from colored art paper. Pictures, flowers, and funny, little appropriate verses (which can be cut from any used card) or notes are included. Envelopes are made to match the cards.

The homemade cards seem 'LIVING LETTERS' OVERSEAS

NEW YORK (AP) — Both the American Red Cross and the USO are helping Americans at home exchange "living letters" with servicemen overseas.

At USO headquarters in Saigon and DaNang, Viet Nam, American men go to a tape room where they play tape-recorded messages from wives, children, parents and sweethearts. In turn, the GIs record messages to mail to the folks back home.

The Red Cross program is called "voices from home."

to be much more appreciated than the store - bought variety. Anne Murray

Dear Heloise: Did you know that those stretch headbands the girls wear make wonderful straps for the bottom of stretch pants?

Cut one headband into two pieces, and sew one piece on the bottom of each stretch pants leg.

Mrs. M. E. O.

Dear Heloise: You know those funny TV antennas on top of your television which look so odd in your living room. . .

My husband painted our TV antenna the same color as the walls in our house, and it doesn't look ugly any more.

Be sure to paint only the antenna itself.

Mrs. N. J. Bales

MR. AND MRS. A. L. GODWIN and sons, Buck and Bill, of Gulfport, Mississippi, will arrive Saturday for a visit with Mrs. Godwin's sister, Miss Mary Buckner of 228 Lakeside Drive in Monroe. The Godwin's are former residents of Monroe and she is the former Nan Buckner.

VISITING IN ALEXANDRIA for the weekend are Miss Faye Parker of West Monroe and Mrs. Danny Hoak of Monroe. They are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dorman Clayton and family. Mrs. Clayton attended college with Miss Parker and Mrs. Hoak. She is the former Pat Patterson.

MRS. T. G. SCHARF and her daughter, Relda, drove to Baton Rouge last night to attend the All-State high school football game. Mrs. Scharf's son, Phil, is a member of the All-State Band, which gave a concert following the game.

RECENTLY RETURNED from Houston, Texas, are Mrs. Theodore Westerburg and her daughters, Misses Mevelene and Brenda Westerburg. They attended the wedding of Mrs. Westerburg's other daughter, Miss Peggy Westerburg and David Rayle, August 3.

Courtesies Continue To Compliment Engaged Pair

A dinner party was given in the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Godwin on Columbia Road, OZO Plantation, Saturday evening, July 31, honoring Miss Kay Thompson and Harvey Parnell Perry, whose wedding will be an event of August 21 at Parkview Baptist church.

The entrance to the home was marked with lighted torches and hurricane lamps and along the path to the back lawn. Against a background of crape myrtle, picnic tables were placed covered with yellow tablecloths and arranged with white daisy appointments. A wicker bird cage filled with sprays of flowers hung from an oak tree branch suspended over the main table. At another glass top table, an arrangement of yellow daisies in a brown wicker basket formed the centerpiece.

Miss Lelia Godwin, daughter of the host and hostess, served at the buffet table. Miss Thompson wore a yellow shift of sports cotton with large muffin sleeves stitched in navy blue. Matching accessories completed her appropriate attire for the outdoor occasion. Sharing the occasion with the honored couple and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dhu Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Perry; were Miss Mary Conlin, John Rea, Miss Judy Cobb, Taylor Heard, Miss Carolyn Thompson, Robert Koontz, Mr. and Mrs. Hank Biedenharn, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Johnston III, Mr. and Mrs. Dixon Johnston and Miss Katie Trimble.

SUMMER POTATOES

When potatoes are to be put in the oven with a meat loaf, bake some extra spuds. Cool the extra potatoes and refrigerate. Next day, peel the potatoes and dice; mix with a thin or medium white sauce and heat on top of the range. Nice idea for summer!

CLEAN 'HANDLING'

Always wash hands with soap and water before handling records. Also, hold records by the edges — or by one edge and the center — so that fingers can't leave a greasy deposit which attracts dust.

FAVORED BY many designers for fall is the suit with a Russian look to the jacket. Above, black and white checked wool is shaped into a lightly fitted hip jacket whose seams continue down the easy A-line skirt. Black mink rims the neck, side closing and hemline. Beneath is a sleeveless Y-seamed black silk blouse with buttoned yoke.

Final Festivity Honors Miss DeFreese, Fiance

Friday evening, August 6 at 8 o'clock, prior to the wedding last night, Mr. and Mrs. John Fred Richmond Sr. entertained the families and members of the DeFreese - Richmond wedding party with a dinner party in the Gold Room of the Holiday Inn in Ruston. The bride - elect, Miss Linda Sue DeFreese, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lonnie DeFreese of Ruston.

White place cards inscribed with silver marked places for that guest: Mr. Richmond Jr. Miss DeFreese, Mr. and Mrs. Richmond Sr., Mr. and Mrs. DeFreese, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Land, all of Ruston, Mrs. Henry B. Smith, Farmerville, Louisiana, Mr. and Mrs. Alton E. Calhoun, Miss Madeline Calhoun, Mrs. M. L. DeFreese, all of West Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Richmond of New Orleans, Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Lopscomb, Miss Dianne Henry, Randy Richmond, Miss Kathie Richmond, Miss Camille Duchesne, Mrs. W. Y. Thompson, Mr. Brody Dean Telford and Mr. Jim Lipscomb and Mr. Phillip Lawson, all of Ruston.

The U-shaped table held a central arrangement of white gladioli, chrysanthemums, leatherleaf and English ivy. Tapers were placed at intervals the full length of the table amid garlands of English ivy.

The hostess, Mrs. Richmond, chose to wear a white silk cowl neckline model with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The bride-elect selected a pink and white summer print with pink accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. DeFreese, mother of the bride, selected a two piece silk linen with bone accessories for the occasion and wore a pink carnation corsage. Mrs. Richmond was assisted in the courtesies by Mr. Richmond's sisters, Mrs. Henry B. Smith of Farmerville, Louisiana.

Rehearsal Dinner Is Climax Of Parties For Sue Rushing, Fiance

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McGinn hosted the rehearsal dinner held Friday evening at Hugo's restaurant in Lake Providence in honor of their son, Alvin Joseph McGinn Jr. and his bride-to-be, Miss Betty Sue Rushing. The couple will exchange vows in a morning ceremony, August 7, in Sacred Heart Catholic church in Oak Grove, Louisiana.

The long table was centered with low arrangements of white gladioli, roses and stock and at either end of the table was a silver candelabrum holding white tapers, draped with miniature ivy.

The bride-elect wore a powder blue silk dress with embroidery trim, and matching accessories. Her corsage was a white cymbidium orchid.

Guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Newton Rushing, Miss Donna Traweck, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Chapman, Miss Charlotte Welch, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Billing, and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Nicholson of Pioneer; Mr. and Mrs. Gail K. Gay of Oak Grove, Miss Charlene Turner and Mr. and Mrs. Arch Turner of Ferriday, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Gunn and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rushing of Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Becker III, Misses Rita and Carmelite McGinn of New Orleans, Mrs. Robert L.

Nip Romance In Bud Before Full Bloomed

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 and engaged to a wonderful guy (I'll call "Buddy"), who is 20, in the Army and is stationed overseas. He's been there since last December and if he's lucky he'll be home (on leave) for Christmas, but he has to go back until June 1966. I'm sure I'm really in love with Buddy, but here's my problem. All my girl friends are dating and having fun and I am getting tired of sitting home. Is there anything wrong with having a friendly date? Everyone knows I am engaged and all I want is to go out and have a good time with the other kids.

Lots of my friends think I accepted this engagement ring too soon, but I don't. My mother doesn't understand. She says as long as I am wearing Buddy's engagement ring I am not going on any kind of date with anyone else. I don't want to send the ring back, but this is like being in jail and I'm tired of being —

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell me what to do with this kind of husband? We have been married for ten years and we have three beautiful children. I am not able to support myself and have nowhere to go or I would have left him long ago. This is my problem. He has a big mouth. He tells everything we say and do in our private life. Nothing (and I mean NOTHING) is sacred. Our private life is discussed on his job, in conversations with neighbors, relatives, in every beer joint he visits. He will tell anything to get a laugh at my expense. I've tried talking calmly to him and I have even shouted at him, but it hasn't helped. I didn't know he was so filthy - minded when I married him. Must I spend the rest of my life with a man who acts like this because I made a terrible mistake when I was young? I am fed up.

MRS. X.

DEAR MRS. X: You need more help than I can give you in a letter. If your husband is not "sick in the head" (and don't dismiss this possibility until you have investigated it thoroughly) he needs to be talked to by someone whose judgement he respects. Have you a clergyman, family doctor, or even a wise friend who can straighten him out? A marriage with three beautiful children under ten is worth saving. And no man in his right mind would risk losing his family because he can't keep his mouth shut.

Problems? Write to ABBY, News Star. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Final Party Fetes Pair

Wendell C. Sanders entertained with the rehearsal dinner at the Embers restaurant, Thursday evening honoring Wendell Sanders Jr. and his fiancée, Miss Martha Elizabeth Foster, whose wedding will be solemnized tonight in College Place Baptist church.

Silver candelabra entwined with silver and white streamers flanked the central arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums and ivy which adorned the white and green linen covered table. Places were marked with china markers carrying out the bridal motif.

The honoree wore a bright tangerine silk model with black accessories. A corsage of white cymbidium orchids complemented her ensemble.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Foster, the Reverend and Mrs. T. Earl Ogg, Miss Ann Hammons, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Dillingham, Mr. and Mrs. Max Dillingham, Miss Mickey Buford, Mrs. J. Y. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crowe III, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCullen, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bunn, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Davis, Miss Paulette Helm, Miss Gloria Jean Sistrunk, the honored couple and the host.

Ewing-Upshaw Parties Near End With Evening Dinner, Kitchen Shower

Miss Rosemary Upshaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Upshaw, who will wed Randy Lew Ewing, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Ewing of Jonesboro, in an evening ceremony tonight in Memorial Methodist church, Monroe, was named honoree at two parties recently.

Last night the Paragon Club was the setting for the rehearsal dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Ewing in honor of the betrothed couple.

For the occasion, tables in the shape of a U, were overlaid with white linen cloths with the head table featuring a mass arrangement of stock, calla lilies, chrysanthemums, carnations and tuberoses in an antique silver epergne. This centerpiece was flanked by lighted hurricane lamps, ivy streamers, while the side tables held similar centerpieces.

The couple chose this occasion to present their attendants with a small remembrance of the festivities.

Miss Upshaw wore a trouseau model of palest pink linen featuring an A-line skirt and bateau neckline. Re-embroidered appliques of roses accented the neckline and the hemline and her attire was completed with accessories of matching pink linen and a corsage of white cymbidium orchids.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Elton J. Upshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Walker Stinson Jr., Paul Stinson, Ed Walker Stinson III, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Upshaw Jr., Terry Ewing, Miss Susan Dietrich, John Blackman, Miss Paula Perry, Miss Ellen Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. John Garrett, Miss Susan Ferguson, James L. Japanese Woman Only Hopes Bomb Never Falls Again

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — "I only hope that never again, anywhere in the world, will any children have to face what my children did when Hiroshima was bombed 20 years ago today. I hope that all people will understand they must use both their hearts and their heads."

"I hope for a better world."

Those are the words and hopes of Yurika Moriki, who lost her husband, two teen-age daughters and 5-month old baby in Hiroshima.

Only she and a son, now 30 and in the U.S. Army, survived. Hiroshima was fearfully expecting a bombing after Tokyo

Chamber Plans Blue Uniforms Promoting City

Public Relations Committee chairman, Harry Arthur Genung, of the Monroe Chamber of Commerce, has announced members of the chamber will wear uniforms in the near future.

Some 100 persons to act as official representatives of the City of Monroe, Genung said, will wear a new emblazoned jacket as the symbol of "The Pacemaker City."

The chairman said, "We will initiate a movement right away to get civic leaders to adopt blue sports jackets with our new pacemaker emblem as the official greater uniform for all city functions."

The jacket patches will be reserved for the exclusive use of city and chamber officials. Those wearing the "uniforms" will act as official hosts at conventions, represent the city at various functions and give advance publicity to the features of the new civic center.

Chamber president Howard Griffin said the board of directors will order their outfits at Monday's meeting. The project, he said, will be unanimously endorsed by the board.

Mal Cooley, member of the public relations committee, created the emblem design which in the near future will be adapted to the chamber's stationery and publications.

The pacemaker emblem incorporates the basic images of the Monroe economy in the circular design. Represented are the pulp and paper industry, construction, cotton and agriculture, education, sports activities, petroleum and beef cattle.

Final Services For Dana Family 10 A.M. Today

Funeral for Mr. and Mrs. James L. Dana Sr. and two teenage daughters will be at 10 a.m. today at Kilpatrick Funeral Home with the Rev. Lea Joyner officiating.

Burial will be at Hasley Cemetery.

The four were killed in a crash of Dana's plane shortly after noon Thursday in north-east Mississippi.

The two daughters killed were Jean, 15, and Katherine Ann, 13. The plane went down about seven miles south of Mathiston, Miss., which is located 70 miles east of Greenwood and 90 miles northeast of Jackson.

Pallbearers will be C. G. Pierce, Roland T. Kinney, Ralph Wiker, Pete Medak, Bill Stewart, Charles Vaughan, Howard Griffin, Gene Lutz, Lester Shivers, Leroy Bairnsfather, J. W. Roberson, and Al Webb.

Honorary pallbearers will be the directors of the Ouachita Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Cake Sale Slated

COLUMBIA (Special) — The Woman's Society of Christian Service Night Circle will hold a cake, pie and cookie sale today on the Caldwell Court House square, beginning at 9:00 a.m. until 12:00 noon.

To Hold Meeting

COLUMBIA (Special) — The Clark's Chapter of Royal Arch Masons, No. 78 will meet tonight to confer 3 degrees at one meeting, according to Sidney A. Seegers.

The time of the meeting has been set up one hour, to 6:30 p.m. due to the long program planned.

Begins Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., said Friday his House Agriculture Committee will begin hearings Aug. 16 on extension of the Sugar act.

He said he expects to be able to complete the hearings in three days.

Cooley said Congress must enact sugar legislation because domestic beet and cane producers are operating under quota restrictions which prevent them from marketing surpluses built up last year and because the statutory division of foreign quotas has expired.

He said he hopes to have a sugar bill from the Agriculture Department for introduction late next week, but the hearings will begin "whether we have a bill or not."

Wanders Into Pit

SUN, La. (AP)—A New Orleans boy drowned here Friday when he wandered into a barrow pit created by gravel digging.

Three-year-old Bradley M. Arata was with his parents while they were vacationing in Sun.

Sheriff's deputies said the boy wandered away with two other children.

Man Drowns

MORGAN CITY, La. (AP)—Sheriff Chester Boudoin said a Belle River man, Gilday Aucoin Sr., 37, drowned when he slipped on a barge and fell into Bayou Boeuf.

The St. Mary Parish sheriff said Aucoin and two other workers were on the barge Thursday at McDermid, in the eastern end of the parish.

The two colleagues discovered Aucoin was missing and called the Morgan City volunteer fire crew to drag the bayou.

Aucoin leaves a wife and two sons.

Charges Filed

FRANKLIN, La. (AP)—Sheriff Chester C. Boudoin Friday filed manslaughter charges against Noland J. Landry, a Jeanerette police officer.

The charges stemmed from the death of Clifford Charles Jr., 24-year-old Negro, last Saturday at Sorrell, three miles east of Jeanerette.

The matter will be referred to the St. Mary Parish grand jury in December.

Charles had fled from Jeanerette to Sorrell after an alleged traffic violation with Landry in pursuit. Charles was stopped at his home and Landry asked him for his license. He said Charles threw something at him and he fired upon instinct.

Education Report Given To Solons

BATON ROUGE (AP) — A Public Affairs Research Council consultant told a legislative committee Friday 35 states have a single board for higher education or some coordinating agency.

The legislative study group headed by Sen. Fred Eagan, New Orleans, ended its current two days of hearings after coordinating a flock of study assignments.

It prepared invitations for two days of hearings here Aug. 25-26, with President W. E. Whetstone of the State Board of Education and the university and college presidents under that board scheduled to appear first.

Next day, Chairman Joseph LeSage of the Louisiana State University board, LSU President John Hunter and LSU chancellors will appear.

During the morning, two committee members, Sen. Sylvan Friedman, Natchez, and Rep. John Garrett, Claiborne Parish, conferred with Gov. John McKeithen who has returned from a short rest in Mexico City.

"He just wanted to know how we were getting along," Eagan said.

Letters are being sent to the educators asking their views on how to untangle problems of higher education, including soaring expenses.

Miss Imogene Pliner, research specialist for PAR, private research group which has been working closely with Gov. John McKeithen's administration, outlined for the Eagan committee her agency's study on coordination, with the survey scheduled for completion by Nov. 1.

In addition to her comment on the 35 states, Miss Pliner said the PAR survey was seeking ways to end overlapping efforts at the colleges and universities.

She said PAR has sent out questionnaires to all LSU and state college and university presidents, and the information is being pulled together.

The educators are being questioned about courses offered, those discontinued, minimum size of classes, procedures for new degree courses, graduate courses.

Rep. Joel Chaisson, St. Charles Parish, asked Eagan whether the meetings with the college presidents would be closed, as had been discussed.

"No, this is a study group," Eagan replied, "we're conducting hearings, not investigations."

He stressed the hearings with the college presidents would be open.

When his committee completes the hearings with the college presidents, Eagan said, he will call for a meeting with the university presidents.

Coworkers Try Russian Miner For Miserliness

MOSCOW (UPI)—A Russian miner who hoarded 3,500 pounds of grain and $30 pounds of honey "for a rainy day" has been put on trial by his co-workers for miserliness.

The labor newspaper Trud, which told the story Friday, did not say whether the trial punished Miner Anton Volgin or forced him to give up his miserly ways.

Trud said bachelor Volgin saved grain, honey and clothes for six years, storing them in the cellar of his home. Every day he wore the same ragged pair of overalls and never went to the movies, his fellow miners complained.

Unable to find a criminal case against Volgin, the disgruntled miners force a "comrades court," accused him of "private property infection," and "put him to shame."

New Homer Law Federal Examiners Bans Carrying Loaded Guns Ready to 'Fan Out'

HOMER (Special) — The Homer Town Council has passed a law prohibiting the carrying of any type of loaded firearm in a public place.

The ordinance, drawn by City Atty. George H. Robinson, provides for a fine of not less than $50, or 30 days in jail, or both, for anyone found guilty of violating the provisions of the law.

Specifically prohibited is anyone carrying upon his person in a public place any type of firearm including shotgun, rifle, pistol, "zipgun" or any type of weapon that could cause death or bodily harm when the weapon is loaded. The only exceptions will be by written permission of the mayor.

In other announcements this week, Mayor Roy Lowe said that the state has agreed to dredge the drainage ditch from the sewage plant to Bayou D'Arbonne at a total cost of some $1,000 to be borne by the state.

The town council endorsed participation in Tourist Appreciation Day, Aug. 14, asked for and received Chamber of Commerce support. The tourist committee of the chamber will handle the project.

Negro Killed

PORT ALLEN, La. (AP) — State police said a 13-year-old Negro was killed Friday when a car smashed into his bicycle near here.

Larry Gray, Rt. 1, Port Allen, died soon after arriving at a Baton Rouge hospital. Lt. Levin Walker said the boy was riding across the highway when he was struck by an auto driven by Mrs. Irene C. Miers, 51, 128 Rena St., Lafayette.

WASHINGTON (Special) — A battery of federal examiners will fan out into the South next week to start registering Negroes to vote under the Voting Rights Act of 1965, signed by President Johnson Friday.

The examiners, all Civil Service Commission employees, have been drawn from the states in which they will operate.

They were selected by the Atlanta and Texas regional offices of the CSC, and have just completed three days of intensive training for their sensitive new responsibilities at the Commission's headquarters here. The examiners, some 45 in number, will be assigned by the Civil Rights Division of the Justice Department and will be sent first to counties "in which the pattern of voter discrimination is crystal clear," a department spokesman said.

Working usually in teams of two or three, they will set up registration offices. The examiners will be supplied with special voter application forms.

"Citizens interested in voting, may go to the office of the examiners, obtain an application form and fill it out in the presence of the examiners," a spokesman said. "If the applicant meets the requirements, the examiner will give him a certificate of eligibility to vote and will place his name on eligibility lists for state, county and municipal elections. Then these lists will be forwarded to the appropriate state and local election officials responsible for placing the names on the regular voting rolls."

The newly eligible voters must take their certificates of eligibility with them when they go to the polls to vote, the spokesman added. He also noted there are provisions in the new act governing poll observations, to assure that the new registrants are not challenged when they appear at the balloting places.

The name of the examiners are being withheld until their first assignments are announced by the U.S. Attorney General Sunday afternoon. However, a CSC official emphasized that "in so far as possible, they will be residents of the community or state to which they are assigned."

Asked if the 45 trained examiners will be sufficient to cover all counties eligible for federal registration supervision under the act, the spokesman admitted, "We still don't know just how many we will have to provide to them in a hurry," he added.

He said the Civil Service Commission could use employees from other government agencies, "with their consent," to supplement the initial group of Civil Service employees, all of whom are on loan from their regular jobs as clerks, classifiers and similar positions.

He pointed out that the act would permit outside hiring, if that became necessary, but said, "We have no plans at present for hiring outside of government."

In testifying before the Senate and House judiciary committees earlier this year, John W. Macy, chairman of the Civil Service Commission, emphasized that the success of the voter registration program "depends heavily" on the quality of the people selected as examiners.

In addition to being capable of inspiring confidence in the integrity of the voter listing procedures, Macy said the examiners "must have such personal qualities as objectivity, patience and tact," along with the ability to analyze and decide issues of fact, to exercise sound judgment and to "meet and deal effectively with the applicants, local officials and others."

13 Win Acclaim On Graduation At Area School

RUSTON (Special) — General honors were bestowed upon 13 members of the graduating class of Louisiana Tech at commencement exercises held Thursday night in Howard Auditorium here.

The graduation address was delivered by Dr. Boyd M. Woodward, a practicing physician in Lake Charles, who is a member of the State Board of Education and immediate past president of the board.

Ranking highest with summa cum laude distinction was William Roger Briley of Shreveport, a mechanical engineering major.

The other 12 honorees were as follows:

Magna cum laude — Earl Howard Aiken Jr., of Tioga, and Ann Albritton Wilson of Jena.

Cum laude — Edith Anne Aswell, Calhoun; James Robert Britt, Choudrant; Nelda Ladine Caraway, Cotton Valley; Jennifer Sue Cargill, Ruston; Shirley Faye Colvin, Dubach; Michael Paul Malek, Homer; Dana Joy Miller, Pineville; Margie Murray Morgan, Marion; Thomas David Rorie, Shreveport; and Charles Lynn Williams, Keithville.

The custom of selecting recipients of departmental honors has been discontinued at Tech. Approximately 200 students were presented diplomas at the graduation event.

Legion Officers To Be Installed Tuesday Night

RUSTON (Special) — New officers of the American Legion and Auxiliary will be installed in ceremonies Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in the Legion Hall.

Jack Madden will continue as commander of the Ruston post, and will be assisted by Rex Holstead and Glenn Swann, vice commanders; Howard Davis, adjutant; and V. H. Rainwater Jr., treasurer.

Mrs. Sadie Hendricks will present the gavel to Mrs. Annie Mae Delony, incoming president. Other officers are: Mrs. A. A. Hedgeth, and Miss Irene Moncrief, vice presidents; Mrs. Howard Davis, secretary; Mrs. Sam Griggs, treasurer; Mrs. T. W. Hammock, chaplain; Mrs. Bertha Colvin, historian; and Mrs. H. C. Rundell, sergeant-at-arms.

Korea Will Send 15,000 Men Into Viet Action

SEOUL (AP) — The South Korean government plans to send one combat division of about 15,000 men to South Viet Nam was approved by the Defense Committee of the South Korean National Assembly Saturday.

The vote was 12 for and 2 against.

Police Probing Theft Of Pants In West Monroe

West Monroe officers late Friday were probing the case of the policeman's pants.

Spencer "Bit" Collie reported to fellow officers that a pair of uniform trousers were stolen from him while on duty Friday. Fortunately, they were not the ones he was wearing but a spare pair in the cab of his truck which was parked near the West Monroe police station while Officer Collie was on duty.

Officers said they didn't have "a thread of evidence, much less a whole pair of trousers."

In other action, West Monroe officers were holding a 19-year-old Monroe man on four charges while Monroe police investigated the possibility of a fifth.

In custody was Roy C. Davis, 206 Pine St., charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages, reckless driving, resisting arrest and driving with a revoked driver's license.

Under investigation by East Bank authorities was a charge of unauthorized use in connection with the car Davis was driving when apprehended Thursday night.

Monroe police booked Ralph W. Smith, 38, of 2014 Frances Pl., Monroe, for issuing worthless checks.

Booked on two counts of theft in West Monroe was Louis Bridges, 26, of 101 School St., West Monroe.

Booked for driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages in West Monroe were Travis A. Hamilton, 35, of 1316 Trenton St., West Monroe, apprehended on Claiborne Street at 12:10 a.m.; Patsy Farmer, 53, of 1014 Milton Ave., Monroe, apprehended at 4:20 p.m. on Cypress Street; and Paul H. Tidwell, 22, of Downsville, apprehended also on Cypress at 7:25 p.m. The Farmer woman was also charged with reckless driving.

Monroe officers booked Pascal Redding, 17, of 2013 Sherwood Ave., Monroe, with carnal knowledge of a juvenile. He was transferred to the Ouachita Parish jail.

Otis Lee Brown, 1617 S. 5th St., Monroe, was charged with public drunkenness, resisting arrest, disturbing the peace, simple escape and simple battery Friday.

Ticketed for reckless driving in West Monroe was Thomas Teddson, 59, of Downsville, and Bobby W. Gooden of 305 Montgomery, West Monroe.

Booked on warrants for simple battery Friday night were Dorsey Merryweather, 34, of 3911 Segrest Mercy St., Monroe; Mildred Hogg, 31, of 3804 Cooper St., Monroe; and Charles Berry, 34, of 16A Louis Locke, Monroe.

Booked for negligent driving was Jessie J. Smith, 22, of 915 Hood Alley, Monroe. Booked for speeding was Connie M. Buttitta, 39, of 602 K St., Monroe.

State Division Will Close Door To All But Few

WASHINGTON (AP) — Effective Monday, the State Department building will be closed to all persons except those given special admission.

This is the first time in the long peacetime history of the State Department that its Washington headquarters will be barred to free public entry, according to press officer Marshall Wright.

Wright said the action is being taken to improve security. He denied there have been any security breaches, but said, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." He denied also that the new order traces to sex molestation incidents.

The cost of the added security measures is estimated at $260,000 annually.

Under the new security rules no one will be allowed to enter the big State Department headquarters building in Washington's Foggy Bottom area unless they present proper credentials.

An exception to the ban is the passport office where arrangements are being made for direct access from outside without entering other parts of the building.

Individuals having business with other offices will be expected to set up appointments after which entrance arrangements will be made.

Members of the public without credentials will still be able to enter the building under escort, attend foreign policy briefings and go on tours.

Foreign diplomats will be accompanied by State Department personnel when they visit the building.

A State Department notice to its employees said the new security program would be "comparable to that in force in other sensitive agencies of the government."

Wright did not say what other "sensitive agencies" came under this heading.

Judge Enjoins Prosecution Of Robbery Trial

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A federal district judge issued a temporary restraining order Friday halting a district attorney from trying a McComb man on arm robbery charges.

U.S. Dist. Judge Harold Cox ordered Dist. Atty. Maurice Dantin of Columbia to appear in his court Aug. 16 and show cause why he should not be stopped from prosecuting Sterling Lewis (Bubba) Gillis.

Gillis is the son of a prominent McComb businessman and is on a five year parole sentence by the late U.S. Dist. Judge Sidney Mize for the March 2 theft of $38,000 from the Lawrence County Bank at Monticello.

Dantin was slated to try Gillis on state armed robbery charges, Tuesday, but attorneys argued an agreement had been reached that if he pleaded guilty to a federal charge the state charges would be dropped.

Dantin denied any "deal" and said federal officers had recommended the state charges not be pressed if Gillis pleaded guilty. Dantin said the recommendation was made on the assumption Gillis would serve time in a federal penitentiary.

Mize sentenced Gillis to ten years, but suspended the sentence and placed him on five years parole.

Gillis had also been arrested last summer for complicity in series of racial bombings.

Equipment Lack Doesn't Affect Viet Nam Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — There are some shortages of equipment in the U.S. military system but they do not affect American forces in Viet Nam, U.S. officials said Friday night.

They said the shortages are no different than those which occur in any large and complex industrial organization.

Their views were given in answer to questions by newsmen at a recent report by the Senate Preparedness subcommittee headed by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss.

Stennis had spoken of shortages which he indicated had resulted in equipment being taken from forces outside Viet Nam for use by U.S. troops there.

There are no shortages in equipment for American forces in Viet Nam and the committee did not charge that the officials declared, adding that Stennis himself has said the shortages do not affect the Viet Nam operation.

The officials rejected any idea that insufficiencies were caused by money shortages or cost-saving programs instituted by the Defense Department.

They said Army Secretary Stanley Resor and Chief of Staff Harold Johnson had reported the Army was never in a better position on equipment in peacetime and that it is prepared to carry out "sustained land combat" if the need arises.

On hand is enough equipment for 22 divisions — the 16 regular Army plus six ready Reserve divisions, they said.

On another topic it was disclosed that the big military manpower expansion ordered by President Johnson would be virtually completed by early next summer.

By next June 30, about 300,000 more men will be in service and the remaining 40,000 by September, they said.

The primary need for the 340,000-man increase in regular forces — of which 235,000 will be Army — is to fill the holes in regular forces in this country arising from the deployment of 50,000 men to join the 75,000 already in Viet Nam.

The decision to expand strength of the regular Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force instead of calling up Reserves was defended by the officials in talking to newsmen.

Their reasoning is that this time, as contrasted to the Berlin crisis of 1961, adequate strength exists in the active forces to permit tapping the regular strategic Reserves for the buildup in Viet Nam. It is felt it is better to keep the reserves in reserve while they are brought up to full readiness by further training and more equipment.

Newsmen asked about the conflict between Congress and the administration over the Pentagon proposal to merge the National Guard and Reserves.

The officials expressed belief that in the long run Congress will come to agree with the proposal and endorse it although this may take a year or more.

News Delegation

GUATEMALA (AP) — More than 50 journalists from Louisiana, Missouri and Arkansas arrived here Friday and were received in the airport by Mayor Francisco Montenegro, himself a newsmen.

The delegation is headed by Nathan Bolton, from The Bastrop (La.) Daily Enterprise.

Others at the airport were officials from the Guatemalan Tourist Center and the local press.

The American newsmen will visit several tourist attractions. The municipal government gave a reception in their honor and "distinguished visitors" diplomats. The Guatemalan Tourist

Confession Claimed In Mossler Slaying

MIAMI (UPI) — A Miami detective said Friday Melvin Lane Powers told him shortly after being arrested for the murder of Texas financier Jacques Mossler, "you've got me, but I'm not going to tell you about anybody else."

Dade County Detective Sgt. Charles W. Maddox, testifying at a habeas corpus hearing for Powers and the victim's widow, blonde candace Mossler, called Powers' statement in a Texas Ranger station in Houston a "statement of admission."

Powers, 23, and the 46-year-old Mrs. Mossler are charged with first degree murder in the slaying of her husband here 13 months ago. They sought at the hearing to win freedom under bond pending their trial Nov. 15.

Maddox said Powers was arrested in Houston in the late afternoon of July 3, 1964, three days after Mossler was slain. The detective said he interviewed Powers in a Ranger station shortly after midnight and talked with him twice that night.

The second time, Maddox said, he showed Powers the Florida warrant for his arrest and told him that he had been seen in Miami on the evening before Mossler's death by several people. Powers previously had denied to Maddox he was in Miami, the detective said.

Mossler's body was found early on June 30, 1964.

Recalling Powers' statement from memory because he said his notes were locked up and unobtainable, Maddox quoted Powers as saying:

"You've got it all right there. You don't need any more. What do you want me to do. Implicate someone else? I know my fingerprints are all over that damn place and that people saw me. You've got me, but I'm not going to tell you about anybody else. I'm not going to say any more here or in good old Dade."

Maddox said Powers earlier specifically denied being in Miami on June 29 or 30, saying he was in Houston, and that "he denied being in Miami at any time other than three to four weeks prior."

A National Airlines stewardess, Janice Urankar, testified that Powers was a passenger on a flight from Houston to Miami that arrived on the afternoon of June 29. She said she recalled him because other stewardesses on the plane had talked about the black-haired, ruggedly handsome Powers.

The manager of a cocktail lounge at the end of a causeway from the islet where the Mossler apartment was located, Marshall Kline, testified he saw Powers at the lounge on the evening of June 29, and had given him an empty king-sized soft drink bottle. Prosecutors claim such a bottle may have been used to kill the 69-year-old Mossler.

Bartender Buddy Sheehan also identified Powers as a man who was in the lounge twice during the evening, and also called him asking for the bottle.

At the outset of Friday's hearing session, a letter from fingerprint expert John Tyler, dated last March 17, was read. In it, Tyler said he had been unable to identify a bloody, fragmentary palm print taken from the buttocks of Mossler's body.

NO "OLD DOGS" FOUND AT THIS SIGN!

HERE'S WHY AN OK USED CAR FROM RYAN CHEVROLET IS YOUR BEST BUY....

1. LARGEST SELECTION

It's a matter of record that we have the largest number, by far, of clean used automobiles than any dealership in Northeast Louisiana. This assures you a vast selection of all makes, all models!

2. Unquestionable Reconditioning

Ryan Chevrolet has a separate shop of factory trained reconditioning specialists that does nothing but recondition every used car that we keep for our retail customers! This assures you unquestionably perfect operating condition and appearance.

3. FULL 25-MONTH WARRANTY

Our quality OK Warranty is your assurance of exceptional used car or truck value. And, it means that whichever OK vehicle you pick, you can bet we'll stand behind it!

4. WELL-KNOWN, LOCAL SALESMEN

Your Ryan Chevrolet OK salesman are men of the highest reputation... local people who're your friends and neighbors, and value your faith and goodwill!

... YES, ALL THIS PLUS SATISFACTION GUARANTEED TO YOUR OWN PERSONAL INTEREST!

It's a fact... Ryan Chevrolet has satisfied customers and we'll do anything to keep it that way. Whatever it takes to make you happy... rest assured you'll find satisfaction here!

Death Takes Woman As Teller Predicted

LONDON (AP) — "You will die," predicted the fortune teller, "when you're 43."

That prediction was made 38 years ago when the fortune teller's client was 5 years old.

The little girl grew up with the awesome prediction on her mind — and died one week after her 43rd birthday, said a report in Friday's issue of the British Medical Journal.

The article was by three doctors — A. R. Elkington, D. D. Yun, and P. R. Steele — of the Grenfell Labrador Medical Mission, Ottawa.

"We wonder if the severe emotional tensions of this patient superimposed on the physiological stress of surgery had any bearing upon her death," said the doctors.

They suggested she may have been frightened to death and asked if British doctors knew of any similar cases.

The doctors said the case was that of an apparently healthy woman, a mother of five, who underwent a relatively minor operation. Two days later she was dead.

The doctors said that the night before the woman confessed to her sister — who alone knew of the fortune-telling incident — that she did not expect to awake from the anesthetic.

On the morning of the operation, the woman told a nurse she was certain she was going to die. But her fears were unknown to the doctors. An hour after the operation, she collapsed and lost consciousness. A post mortem revealed extensive internal bleeding for which there was no reasonable explanation.

A spokesman for the British Medical Association said: "There is no medical explanation to account for this. It seems rather like the case of natives who die on the date and at the time witch doctors predict."

Said a British psychiatrist — who because of the medical association's strict laws against doctors advertising asked that his name be withheld: "I do not believe that death can be accurately predicted by a fortune teller, but I am certain that an irresponsible forecast can set off reactions which can make it come true."

Speakers will include Dr. Felton Clark, president of Southern University; Dr. E. C. Harrison, dean of Southern University; Dr. H. Ralph Jackson, head of the Minimum Salary Fund, A. M. E. Church; Dr. McCoy Ranson, historiographer A. M. E. Church; Dr. Andrew White, executive secretary-treasurer, Division of Christian Education, A. M. E. Church; Dr. Charles S. Spivey, secretary-treasurer, Sunday School Union, A. M. E. Church, and Bishop John D. Bright, president of the First Episcopal District, who will deliver the sermon on the first morning of the meeting.

A number of representatives from Methodist Episcopal churches in the northeast district are expected to attend, said Bishop Ball.

An epidemic from starting. If results show that not enough persons are immunized, major immunization campaigns will be held at a later date.

BASTROP (Special) — George W. Warner, 30, died early Friday in San Antonio, Tex., after a long illness. He was a former resident of Morehouse Parish.

Mr. Warner attended engineering school at L.S.U., and served two years in the U.S. Navy with the rank of lieutenant j.g. He was an aero-space engineer.

Funeral will be at San Antonio and the body will be brought to Bastrop for burial.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Wanda Warner of San Antonio; a brother, Claude D. Warner Jr. of Bastrop; two sisters, Mrs. Besamaye Knight and Mrs. Charline Dean, both of Bastrop; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude D. Warner Sr. of Bastrop.

Mrs. Crawford

RAYVILLE (Special) — Mrs. Eulalia French Crawford, 79, died at a Rayville clinic Friday afternoon following a long illness.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by Rayville Funeral Home. Burial will be at Rayville Masonic Cemetery.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Jerry W. Hixon Jr. of Alexandria; and two sisters, Mrs. James C. Sartor and Mrs. Aggie Peebles both of Rayville; and two grandchildren.

Mrs. Sue Gatlin

Mrs. Sue Allen Gatlin, 35, of 102 Sholars St., West Monroe, died at Glenwood Hospital Friday night after a brief illness. She was an employee of Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation and a member of the First Methodist Church of West Monroe.

Survivors include two daughters, Miss Pamela Sue Gatlin and Miss Dawn Elizabeth Gatlin, both of West Monroe; and her mother, Mrs. V. O. Allen of West Monroe.

Health Survey To Be Held In Lincoln Parish

RUSTON (Special) — A survey will be conducted in Lincoln Parish, Aug. 16-20, to learn if residents are protected against diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, small pox and polio, the Louisiana State Board of Health announced.

The parish has been divided into blocks, and selected blocks will be chosen for the survey. Households contacted are urged to aid in the program because the accuracy of the information will indicate how well the parish is protected against these diseases.

Mrs. June Moore, parish health officer, said that at least 80 per cent of the area must be immunized in order to keep
